PLEADS "NOT GUILTY"
J. Thomas Gettigan, Minus Funds, Asks Counsel Assigned.

J. Thomas Gettigan of Revere, Mass., formerly of Rockland, pleaded "not guilty" to a charge of murder in the first degree Wednesday when he was arraigned before Judge Bishop in the Superior Court. He is charged with having fatally poisoned his aunt, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Cook of Revere.

Gettigan informed the court that he was without funds and asked that Roscoe Walsworth, ex-Mayor of Revere, be assigned as his counsel. Judge Bishop will decide on this request. No time was fixed for the trial.

"DEEP SEA" DOINGS
The trawler Shekdrake put into Portland Wednesday, with 125,000 pounds of fresh fish for Burnham & Morrill.

The trawler Medrie sailed for the Western Banks Wednesday and the Snipe put to sea yesterday.

Next Monday the company will make the largest shipment that it has ever forwarded to one concern—a large car of mixed fish products going to Pennsylvania. Wednesday a carload of luncheon haddie will be shipped to Pittsburg. A carload of skins and bones was shipped Wednesday to the Russian Cement Co. in Gloucester, Mass.

The newly installed shredding machine is now in operation in the cut fish department and works to perfection. A name good enough to give the product has not yet been found.

SONS OF MAINE CLUB

Enjoys Its Annual Ladies' Night in Somerville, Mass. —"Boze" Describes It.

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:

The annual "Ladies' Night" of the Sons of Maine Club of Somerville, Mass., was held in Unitarian hall, Wednesday evening. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, the heaviest storm of the season having raged since early morning, nearly 200 participated in the event.

At 6:30 p. m. the members, with their ladies, and invited guests, began to assemble in the upper hall, and for nearly an hour were given a chance to mingle, renew old acquaintances and form new ones. At 7:20 the line was formed and all marched to the banquet hall. President Vanner requested Rev. Guy C. Vannah to say grace. After the banquet a short business meeting was held, at which, after some good natured jollifying was indulged, our guest William C. Crawford, head master of the Boston Trade School, was elected an honorary member.

Letters of regret were read from Gen. Mark L. Hersey, John Claire Minot, Holman F. Day and E. L. Cleveland. President Vanner introduced Mrs. Phoebe Matthews, president of the Daughters of Maine Club of Somerville, who claimed that the Sons of Maine were the finest gentlemen in the world. No one dissented to these remarks. Mrs. Matthews had a real message for us all. "Education" was the theme.

Rev. Guy C. Vannah, formerly of Rockland, related how about a year ago he was congratulated on his election as president of the Sons of Maine Club of Somerville. Being somewhat surprised at this, as it was done without his knowledge, he denied the soft impeachment, but was shown that infallible news disseminator, The Courier-Gazette, wherein he gleaned that he was elected. Mayhap the wish was the father to the thought but it was Samuel A. Vannah of Rockville fame who was the fortunate one. The speaker talked wisely and well of the advantages of being born in the dear old State of Maine.

Rev. R. Perry Bush, a native Cape Codder, now of Chelsea, gave an interesting talk on the benefits of associations like ours where we meet together in our common love for our native State. William C. Crawford then gave a splendid address, sometimes humorous, at others serious, which was listened to with rapt attention by those present. Mr. Crawford is a fine speaker. An honorary member Samuel F. Hubbard of Boston, spoke briefly.

His Honor, Mayor John M. Webster of Somerville, said that though not born in Maine, he lived in that State for a number of years and was a son by adoption at least. He congratulated the club and the city upon having such men as composed this club within its gates.

About 10 p. m. the president announced that the supper hall was ready for dancing for those who so desired, and "All went merry as a marriage bell."

THE "DO-NOTHING" CONGRESS

Senator Lodge Says Republicans Can Stand On International and Domestic Accomplishments Without Fear Of Misgiving.

What the Republican party has accomplished in Congress since it came into power and what it has done in international affairs through the armament conference formed the subject of an address by Senator Henry Cabot Lodge to the Republican members of the Massachusetts legislature.

The three great objects of the United States in the armament conference, said the senator, were the limitation of armaments, the termination of the Anglo-Japanese alliance and the attainment of "all we could for the benefit of China, in which the dominant feature was the return of the province of Shantung."

"In all three of these objects," he continued, "we were successful. I do not underrate in the least the earnest good will and co-operation we received from all our colleagues representing the other nations, but the lead in the conference belonged to the United States because we issued the invitations and that lead we took and held throughout. Almost every proposition certainly of any importance, was brought forward by the American delegation."

The Republican party since it last came into power has made a record in international and domestic accomplishment by which it may ask the country to stand "without fear or misgiving," said Senator Lodge.

"Urging Republicans to pay no heed to the outcries of political opponents who call the present Congress a 'do nothing' body, but rather to 'go forward in the good old Republican way and carry on,'" Senator Lodge reviewed the achievements of the party since it gained control of Congress in March, 1919.

"I know," he said, "I am speaking within bounds when I say that no Congress in time of peace has ever shown such an amount of important effective and remedial legislation as has been enacted by the present Congress since it has been in session."

The Republicans, he said, "found the worst situation economically which any party in this country had ever been called upon to face and we have a right to be proud of our record."

"The Democrats," Senator Lodge declared, "by every artifice of delay and time wasting, have done their best to make this Congress a 'do nothing' body and although they have failed they are keeping on saying it just the same."

Senator Lodge dwelt at length upon the fruits of the armament conference, which, he said, "we owe to the wisdom of President Harding in summoning it."

More was done by the conference for the world's peace in 12 weeks, he added, "than has been done anywhere else in twice as many years. There are questions which arise above the region of politics, but the fact remains that it was under a Republican President that steps have been taken under which a thorough American policy has been carried out on the conference at Washington, by a delegation representing both political parties, with a success which is recognized by the entire world."

When the Republican party gained control of Congress in 1919 it proceeded to reduce appropriations of the Wilson administration for the last year by $1,500,000,000, Senator Lodge said. It also repealed war appropriations aggregating more than eight billions of dollars, and continued to reduce them until, for fiscal year ending June 30, 1922, the appropriations stood at $3,909,000,000.

"Since the present Congress has been in," the Senator continued, "they have reduced appropriations asked for by the departments of $5,237,000,000 to $1,428,000,000. This was the work of the 'present do nothing' Congress. This party owing to the fact that during the year ending June 30, 1921, 93,634 people were dismissed from the

SPRING, AND MILADY

John Newman Comes Back From New York With An Enticing Yarn About Styles.

The word "spring" will soon be on the lips of all followers of fashion and with this magic word comes thoughts of "What is new." Already the foremost American designers have collaborated with the famous foreign fashion criterioners, and have created some wonderful ideas. From this maelstrom of style have emerged some smart and striking styles in spring apparel. And so in the initial showing of these, milady may expect to see some very beautiful and charming creations. Thanks to the thoughtfulness of John Newman of the W. O. Hewett Co., who has just returned from New York and has made purchases for spring, it is possible to present to our lady readers a brief outline of what they may expect to see in our local shops shortly.

"The cloth manufacturers have helped towards the new fashions considerably," says Mr. Newman, "by developing many new materials such as Pandoras, Wondoras, Shushen, new novelty Eponges and Sponges, and the newer weaves in Pique, Neddle Twills and Cords, also fine weaves in Tricot and Poles. Also there are recent developments in sport materials, such as the Johnny Walker Cloth, the Kelly Cloth, Snow Flake, Herring-bones, and fancy Bannockburns and Donegals.

"All these fabrics have been produced in new beautiful shades such as Orchid, Fuchsia, Cana, Flame, Tangerine, Cinder, Snuff and Lady Bird as well as the conventional Navy and Black. These all tend to make the styles for spring more diversified than ever before.

The plain tailor of long lines in fine twills is again in vogue for those who care for this style of garment but in addition to this are the newer models in box suits with their variations—the flare loose back suit and the cape suit, elaborately trimmed with fancy braids of many descriptions.

"And then again we have the town and country suit made in beautiful Tweeds and mixtures and in these suits we have an innovation brought to us—the knickerbockers, which 'Dame Fashion' predicts a great future for. These suits are all made in three pieces so that if milady tires of the 'knicker' she also has the separate skirt to wear with her jacket. Many of these suits are produced in smart mannish lines and are the real practical garment for motoring, walking and golfing.

"Then we have the mannish tailored polo and mixture separate coats made with the new heavy rayon, rayon, which gives it such a real smart effect, which makes it almost irresistible. Then there are the new effects in wrap-ups, coats, with the large flaring sleeves and throw collars, all trimmed with contrasting colors that give them such beautiful lines, and the new capes made in soft materials that may be worn by the most conservative or extreme dresser. The latter garments are destined to be very successful articles as they are practical for all occasions. In all these above items embroidery and braiding play important parts.

"It never rains but it pours, and so in the new dresses there is just pouring with heads of all kinds. Particularly are the new Crepe Romaine dresses, that are elaborately trimmed with the new jet beads. Colors are playing important parts with the latest creations. Basque dresses with tight bodies and flared skirts, made in the satin back canton, are the rage right now. And spiral crepes, trimmed with lace and colored etchings, seem to be very popular. Then there are some beautiful dresses made in the new Crepe Espagne, the Molly O and Crepe knit.

"And as a whole the new styles for spring will be very pleasing to the feminine eye as well as to the purse."

HONORS FOR LERMOND

Thomaston Man Elected President of a Florida Institute.

A recent issue of the St. Petersburg (Fla.) Times says:

"Dr. Norman Wallace Lermond, curator and librarian of the Knox Academy of Arts and Sciences of Maine, was unanimously elected president of the Pinellas Institute of Natural Sciences at the meeting held Friday night in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. Dr. Lermond is widely known throughout the world of science, both in this country and abroad, having written many important scientific books and articles. He has held the office of curator and librarian of the Knox Academy for the past eight years. At present he is spending the winter in Gulfport.

"The ultimate purpose of the institute is to coordinate all scientific work done by people in Pinellas county and to provide a permanent building in which collections can be kept of the flora and fauna of Florida."

If the red slayer think he slays,
Or if the slain think he is slain,
They know not well the subtle ways
I keep, and pass, and turn again.

Far or forgot to me is near;
Shadow and sunlight are the same;
The vanished goods to me appear;
And one to me are shame and fame.

They reckon ill who leave me out;
When me they fly I am the wings;
I am the doubter and the doubt,
And I the hymn the Brahmin sings.

VOTERS OF ROCKLAND

Vote for A. P. Blaisdell for Mayor and a Business Administration.

Why don't you elect business men to the City Government—men who pay taxes, and men qualified to run the city as a business institution? This is a familiar query. All of us have heard it many times in the past, and we have conceded that there was both justice and common sense to the remark. The Republican party this year offers as its candidate for mayor a man whose own business is a tribute to his executive ability, and it has placed on the ticket with him men and women who will help him see that the taxpayers' hard earned dollars are spent where they will do the general public the most good. A progressive policy, embodying the will of the people, is what such an administration could not fail to give.

Misapplied charity is one of the things which the State Board of Charities is endeavoring to guard against, and to that end is keeping accurate tabs on all the organizations which solicit funds in Maine. Warning is now issued against the Lowry Institute and Industrial School of Mayesville, S. C., "because the institution is not licensed to solicit funds in this State, and from information received by the Board it is very doubtful if it could secure a license." Do not subscribe to any unknown cause unless you communicate with the State Board of Charities and Corrections in Augusta and ascertain whether it is a worthy cause.

The State's stipend, which goes annually to agricultural fairs credited with having the proper moral standard, has been withheld in a number of instances, and Topsham is one of those which has been denied the privilege. This is one of the best known fairs in Maine, and has always drawn liberally from Knox county. In just what manner it has offended the Department of Agriculture is not stated, but the indignant fair officials announce their intention of finding out, Rockland people who attended the fair last fall complained of no special naughtiness.

What's this we read about St. Petersburg, Fla.? The Purify League urging the mayor to appoint a bathing inspector "to protect married men from the wiles of the sea vamp," and protests against a bathing suit party? Knox county folks who foregather at that resort best watch out.

The day of prolonged courtships is apparently waning. The Census Bureau informs us that 1699 boys and 12,834 girls, 15 years of age, were married in the United States in 1920.

BASKETBALL BATTLES

Rockland Teams Have a Scorefest—Rockport Wins League Game—Coy Brunswick Chicks Lost Pin Feathers.

Rockport High broke into the percentage column of the Knox and Lincoln Basketball League last night by defeating Thomaston High. The pennant chase is expected to hinge on next Friday night's game, when Lincoln Academy plays Camden in Camden. The standing:

	Won	Lost	P. C.
Lincoln Academy	4	0	1.000
Camden High	4	1	.800
Rockland High	3	3	.500
Rockport High	1	2	.333
Thomaston High	0	6	.000

It was "Rockland night" at the Arcade last night, all three of the home teams winning with such ease as to take the zest out of the games.

Rockland High defeated Stonington High 34 to 4, the visitors scoring only one goal from the floor and two from fouls. Reed and Ludwig divided score-making honors. The score:

Rockland High (34)			Stonington High (4)

Rough going kept the Bangor High girls at home, and probably kept them from even rougher going had they reached Rockland. Brunswick High came here and shared the fate of other teams which have opposed the Rockland girls. The first half left a score of 18 to 0 in favor of the home team, but the last half was a veritable slaughter, the final score being 52 to 0. Eileen Flanagan, "The Willow Street Whirlwind" made 36 points, Breen 16 and Hall 6.

The Rockland Sophomores defeated the Camden second team 26 to 16.

At Rockport last night: Rockport High 23, Thomaston High 13 (League game); Rockport Second 19, Thomaston Second 10; Thomaston Girls 5, Rockport Girls 5.

The Thomaston Locals were defeated by the Camden Locals 48 to 12 in Camden last night, the game being played principally to give practice to the Camden team, which plays in Belfast tonight.

FOR CITY CHAMPIONSHIP

Burpee's Bears Take Number One In the Seven-Game Series With the Texaco Stars.

The city championship polo series between the Texaco Stars and Burpee's Bears, which is being played for a purse of $75, opened with a bang Thursday night, and Manager John O. Stevens had the satisfaction of seeing his team win first blood in the sanguinary contest. The battle raged first in front of one goal and then the other, with the result in doubt right up to the last moment.

The Courier-Gazette's prediction that it would be a whale of a series was borne out by the facts, and the fans who like lots of rivalry mixed up with fast playing should not miss any of the games in this series, which will last until one side has four victories. To make matters even more interesting Kenney will be with the Texacos and J. Skinner with the Bears in the balance of the series.

Honors were even in the first period Tuesday night, but in the second period Mitchell put on extra steam and gave the Burpee outfit a lead of two scores. The last period saw both sides working with might and main, and each able to score but once.

The 200 spectators who braved the disagreeable night came away very enthusiastic over the manner in which the series opened, and it is safe to say that there will never be less than twice that number of spectators in the remaining games. The second contest will take place next Wednesday night.

The score:
 Burpee's Bears—Mitchell 1r, R. Skinner 2r, Daunais c, M. Foster hb, C. Foster g.
 Texaco Stars—Gilchrist 1r, McLoon 2r, Wheeler c, Oney hb, Scott g.

ANOTHER ICE RACE

Manrico Bel Will Now Take On Alfred Todd At $100 a Side—Other Events.

The matched race between Manrico Bel of Rockland, Alfred Todd, 2154 of Thomaston, is now scheduled for Saturday, Feb. 25, at Chickawaukie Lake. Weather permitting, the pair will get the word at 1 p. m. If the weather is not favorable the event will be postponed to the first pleasant day. The side bet is $100, and the money is now up, with Fred P. Knight as stakeholder.

"Frannie" Simmons will take the mount behind Manrico Bel, and either Earl Ludwig or Ora Grant of Bangor will steer the Todd pacer.

There are two other classes for the same afternoon. A four-cornered event will be contested by three no-record pacers and one trotter. The

The championship game was preceded by a game between the Limerock Tigers and Invincibles in which comedy strongly prevailed. Carl Borgerson enlisted in the fray as halfback for the Tigers, playing in felts and without skates. ON TRIAL BEFORE GOD

"Grave Danger of America Losing Her Soul," Said Helen Barrett Montgomery —We Must "Put Up Or Shut Up."

A large audience gathered at the Baptist church last night to hear Mrs. Helen Barrett Montgomery, president of the Northern Baptist Convention, deliver a stirring address in the interest of the New World Movement of Baptists, during the course of which she discussed in vivid style the fundamental reasons for the starting of this national campaign two years ago. Mrs. Montgomery, a widely traveled author of established reputation, has acquired a versatile breadth of view with reference to religious affairs of many lands and as one of the most eloquent church women of the country, is particularly well qualified to penetrate into America's shortcomings and lay emphasis upon this subject which is apparently very close to her heart.

After commenting upon the generous and whole-hearted response with which Americans had met the world crisis of a few years ago, laying particular stress upon the war activity of the women, Mrs. Montgomery intimated that the Protestant faith is faced today by a crisis fully as ominous as that which assailed the country a few years ago and that the same vigorous type of response must be inaugurated right now to save the church.

"Shall we do as much for Christ as we did for Uncle Sam?" was her next pertinent question. "Is the kingdom of Jesus Christ worth as much to us as is the United States? The time has come when every man, woman and child if this denomination must face the facts as squarely as we all did when our country needed us. If you will allow me to quote the slangy, but to the point vernacular of a certain small boy, 'Christians have either got to put up or shut up!' This world movement was not an impulsive thing. It received the careful and studied consideration of church leaders for a whole year before it was unanimously adopted at the Northern Baptist Convention two years ago. Every denomination of the Protestant faith has thrived with the new message, the new prospects and the new power of a world movement.

"There is a much larger field for foreign mission than there ever has been before. The missionaries have been more handicapped from the lack of Christianity in the countries from whence they are sent, than from any other cause. We are on trial before God today. When we think of the world crime, the immorality and corruption that is sweeping the land, there is indeed grave danger of America losing her soul. We pay more for chewing gum, moving pictures, soft drinks and such trivialities than for the entire church program. We can't go before God and say that we haven't any money."

After citing several instances where foreigners were benefited by a religious hand here, and subsequently founded Baptist churches upon return to their native lands, Mrs. Montgomery touched upon the particular responsibility Baptists should hold for the American negro, stating that more negroes had adopted the Baptist faith than any other creed. She said that the negro question had ceased to be one of merely Southern consideration and that there were 150,000 negroes in the city of Chicago alone.

"Do you realize," asked Mrs. Montgomery, "that we have lost 500,000 children between the ages of 15 and 20 in our Sunday schools in one year? And do you know there are 25,000,000 young people of this country who are not members of any Sunday school of any faith? We must do something for our Sunday schools. We are not emphasizing the Bible to our children." During another portion of her speech, she pointed out in eloquent style the great importance of prayer and gave as an illustration an incident of her knowledge whereby an invalid in Idaho had been equipped with a wireless apparatus and listened devoutly to a sermon preached by a Dr. Hewett in Dallas, Texas. "If we can make our feeble voices be heard a thousand miles away," said the speaker in concluding her point, "cannot God carry our prayers around the world by a much finer means?"

Mrs. Montgomery is making a four day tour of Maine and last night struck many a responsive chord among her many hearers who gathered to hear her stirring views.

"STRAIN ON THE DEAD"

Rev. Eva Ryerson Ludgate Resents "Silly Expedients of Spiritualism."

Just why Rev. Eva Ryerson Ludgate takes no stock in spiritualism and harbors no fear of death, was told in the speaker's usual forcible style at the Methodist church last night as part of the revival program that has been fascinating large audiences this week. Miss Ludgate attended the largest spiritualist meeting probably ever had in the world and was convinced of nothing except the abnormality and superficial character of the whole proposition.

"It seems to me," said Miss Ludgate, "that if the dead could be called back to earth and had to be continually on the alert answering calls from anybody who should desire their appearance, it would be a frightful strain on the dead."

"I have seen Thurston, the magician, demonstrate every one of the phenomena which appear to be so impressive among spiritualists, such as chairs flying through the air, tambourines playing and tables tapping, but his miracles were consummated by the more material hand of magic. I have a great respect for my dead ancestors and I resent such a silly expedient of their being obliged to tap on a table to confer with me."

"Death is as normal as birth, and comes to everybody. It is not the end but the beginning. You cannot have a shadow without light. The 23d Psalm indicates that Christ has promised to light us through the valley of death. Heaven is a great home God has prepared for those who love him; where there are no graveyards, no good byes, no sick bodies, no old people, no sorrow, no poverty and no tears."

In closing Miss Ludgate quoted a telegram sent by Senator Lodge to Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt after the great American's death. The sentence is from Pilgrim's Progress and is considered one of the most beautiful tributes to death in classic literature: "And he crossed the river and all the trumpets sounded."

Lost for Him.
 "Do you remember the night you proposed marriage to me, dear?" asked the sweet young thing. "Very well indeed," replied the cruel man. "Those were two mighty good citizens you put out of business,"—Yonkers Statesman.

The steam trawler Albatross is at the South Railway for repairs.

King Hiram Council is getting ready for another big meeting March 3.

Claremont Commandery will work the Order of the Red Cross next Monday night.

A 900-pair cable was stretched on Union street yesterday while the thermometer was registering 19 below zero. An airy job, we'll say.

Schooner Catawamuck is at Portland discharging fertilizer from Weymouth, and is chartered to bring another cargo to that port.

The Delta Alpha Class of the Littlefield Memorial church will hold an entertainment and social in the vestry Monday evening at 7.30.

Knox Lodge, I. O. O. F., will hold an important meeting next Monday. Warren Lodge will confer the second degree on ten candidates. Supper will be served at 6.45, and every member is urged to be present. Those who have not been asked to furnish are requested to take pastry.

Maurice B. Kennedy has bought the trucking business which was operated for many years by the late Emerson Young, and will continue its headquarters at the W. H. Glover Co's.

Milton A. Philbrook, who during the war was assistant instructor in the Rockland Navigation School, enters next Monday upon his new post as teacher of English trigonometry and civics in Rockland High School, succeeding Miss L. Jeannette Simmons, who recently resigned.

Patrolman A. S. Niles is spending the week in Boston, where his wife is receiving medical treatment. Special Officer Edward T. Price is on the beat in his absence, and did not have to be "shown" as it is ground which he covered many a long night while on the regular force.

The happiest man in the Nutmeg State last Monday was James E. Rhodes, 24, of Hartford, who formerly resided in this city. On the eve of St. Valentine's Day the stork had left at his home a fine youngster weighing 9½ pounds and which was promptly christened Richard Ayer Rhodes, 2d. "He's about half as big as his father, already, and has lungs that can be heard all over the neighborhood," writes the proud daddy.

King Solomon Temple Chapter conferred the mark degree upon John Carver and Harold J. Newman Thursday night. Next Thursday night the Past and Most Excellent degrees will be conferred upon a good sized class.

The man who manufactured Maine's first successful wireless telephone, Conrad T. Beardsley, of Portland, will be the guest of the Knox County Radio Society next Thursday night. Orel E. Davies, in whose store the meeting is held, and who is one of the promoters of the society, has prevailed upon Mr. Beardsley to give a "clinic" and the local wireless bugs are expected to derive much benefit from it.

R. B. Watts, State Inspector of automobile headlights, gave a demonstration yesterday at the Rockland Motor Mart of a newly invented instrument known as a focusscope, which is expected to be of wide use in keeping auto lights within the law. Laws with reference to glaring lights have not been rigidly enforced because of the difficulty in light regulation. The focusscope, devised and copyrighted by F. S. Arbuckle of Augusta, is a telescope affair to be used in garages that will make an easy adjustment of lights possible. There is scarcely anything more contributive to accidents than blinding lights and the State means that all automobile operators shall have correct headlights or be punished accordingly. Focusscopes to the number of 3,600 have already been ordered by the State of Massachusetts. Mr. Watts has already covered a third of Maine with his demonstrations since December.

Manager Packard of Park Theatre was busy Thursday distributing little cakes of soap of the Life Buoy Brand. "Tack" hasn't gone into the laundry business, or anything of the sort; it was simply an advertising stunt in behalf of the feature picture "Saturday Night" which was shown here Thursday and Friday.

Somebody who seems to think that idle gossip is lying about him (or her) sends us an anonymous communication, declaring that he (or she) has not been seen in front of a certain house on Holmes street, and that he (or she) has not been at the South since the Year One. He (or she) intimates that the alleged gossip is in the habit of riding down from the North with a waiter on the 4.45 car. Naughty, naughty!

Capt. Nils Nelson of the schooner Dorothy Brinkman is home from New York while the vessel is discharging her cargo of lumber from Charleston. Capt. John Bernet, who has been home for a few days, has returned to Portland to join the barge Beaufort, which will tow the Darien to load lumber back to Portland.

When Capt. Israel Snow left for Jacksonville a few weeks ago, his Masonic chum, A. I. Mather, exacted a joking promise from him that he would send back home a "long-necker" if he saw one lying around loose. How "Daddy" kept his promise was realized with the arrival of yesterday's mail. Believing always in a full measure he sent two "long-neckers." "These are the only ones I've seen," read the postscript. The "long-neckers" were pictures of two ostriches.

There's keenest rivalry in the new polo series which began Thursday night between the Texaco Stars and Burpee's Bears. Not only is the city championship at stake, but the long end of a $75 purse. The Bears, managed by John O. Stevens, took the first game by a score of 5 to 3, but barely escaped an ambulance call. Both teams will be strengthened for the remainder of the series, and little else is being talked in polo circles. Next game next Wednesday night (Washington's Birthday).

The men of the Universalist church are up and doing. Not only have they recently organized themselves into a Church Club, but they also announce that they will have entire charge of the morning service on tomorrow. It will be an unusual sight to go to church and see the minister in the pew and the laymen conducting the service. But that is exactly what is to take place at the Universalist church tomorrow morning at 10.30. A meeting with supper is also announced for Monday evening at 6.30.

The report that no more out of town polo teams would play in Rockland this season is absolutely untrue. It is expected that Pawtucket will play here next Friday night. New Bedford and Providence will also probably come again.

At the Knights of Pythias dance next Monday night each patron will be presented with a ticket to the joint installation of next Wednesday evening, which will be followed by a dance. A delegation from the Camden Pythian Sisters will install the officers of the local Pythian Sisters and will give an exhibition drill. The officers of Gen. Berry Lodge will be installed by C. C. Starrett, D. D. G. C.

A most excellent supper was served by the regular officers at 6 o'clock Friday night to about 250 members and visitors. After supper the members adjourned to the chapter room, where the 30th anniversary of the organization of Golden Rod Chapter was celebrated by the Past Matrons and Past Patrons exemplifying the work. The following past officers filled the chairs: W. M., Laura Maxey; W. P., Frank Maxey; Associate Matron, Bertha Staples; Secretary, Hester Chase; Treasurer, E. C. Payson; Conductress, Nellie Dow; Associate Conductress, Grace Daniels; Chaplain, Asa P. St. Clair; Marshal, Joseph J. Veazie; organist, Hattie Payson; Adah, Emma Helier; Ruth, Florence Philbrook; Esther, Ruth Rhodes; Martha, Margaret Stevenson; Electa, Gertrude Payson; warder, Ellen Fiske; sentinel, F. C. Flint. Starting with 23 charter members, the chapter now has 628 members, with 15 candidates in waiting to receive the degrees. The regular officers of Golden Rod Chapter wish to thank all members who furnished food and fruit for the circle supper, Feb. 10 also for their attendance at the supper and meeting and making the evening a success.

Sunday morning at the Pratt Memorial M. E. church, Rev. Eva Ryerson Lukgate will preach on "Lamps and Lamp Chimneys," or the Billy Sunday sermon. At 12.00 she will address the Sunday school and conduct a Decision Day Service. In the evening Miss Lukgate's topic will be "What I mean to be Converted," and in the sermon she will tell the story of her own conversion. The musical program will consist in the morning service of an anthem, "The Lord Reigneth," Frey, with incidental solo by Ruth Plummer; also a solo, "Fear not Ye, O Israel," Back, by Miss Marianna Crockett. In the evening there will be a service of song using the new books, also the anthem, "The Radiant Morn Hath Passed," Woodworth, and a solo by Mrs. Huntley.

At the Baptist church, Mr. Browne will speak in the morning on "Our Stewardship." In the evening at 7.15 there will be a service of song with organ, piano and Ernest Crie on the organ. Mr. and Mrs. Browne will sing a duet at the evening service. Sermon on "Counseling with Our Captain, or the Danger of Deception." At he C. E. at 6 o'clock, reports of the State Convention held at Portland recently, will be given by Miss Ellen Jayden, Miss Helen Gregory, Miss Julia Anderson and Miss Marjorie Sawyer. The Sunday School convenes at 1.45 with growing classes for all ages. All children are invited to the Happy Hour at 4 o'clock. The prayer meeting on Tuesday night at 7.30 invites all to a bright, helpful service. Strangers and visitors are always welcome at the First Baptist church.

At the Universalist church the morning service will be conducted by laymen, the service being in charge of the Men's Club. Tomorrow is Laymen's Sunday and is being observed throughout the country. Men are taking charge of the services and the ministers sit in the pews. This will be the case at the Church of Immanuel tomorrow morning. H. C. Hull will give the address and members of the Men's Club will have other parts in the service. It will be a day for hymn and a large number are expected to attend. The Sunday school meets at 12 o'clock, the afternoon picture service for children at 5, and the Y. P. C. U. at 6 p. m. The evening picture service is at 7.30, and the picture will be "Over the Hill." This picture has been expected twice before but transportation difficulties caused its delay. There will be no disappointment this time, for the slides are already here. The service is free to the public. Monday evening the men have a meeting with supper at 5.30. Wednesday the circle supper will be served at the usual hour.

HAD IT VERY ROUGH

Capt. Duntun of the Agwimex Found No Summer Picnic In Crossing Atlantic.

H. L. Ingerson is in receipt of some interesting letters from Capt. B. W. Duntun of the Steamship Agwimex. The first was written Jan. 18 in Lat. 42.26 N., Lon. 21.42 W., while the ship was in passage for Tecumate, Mexico. Capt. Duntun said:

"I left Southampton Jan. 14, and came down the English channel. Had it very good until we got out of it, but there has been a gale from the west ever since, and it has been very rough. I am in hopes, after I get down south of the Azores, that we will get it better. I have just squared away for St. Michaels and will pass down between the Islands. The ship is a dandy in a sea way, and goes right along.

"I had a rough trip over-gale of wind all the way and the roughest I ever saw it, but I made a record passage at that. It was only 18 days 8 hours from Galveston, Tex., distance of 4959 miles. My average speed was 11.25 knots per hour, which I thought was pretty good for an oil tanker.

"We passed the Agwisa on the grand banks and she left 240 miles ahead of us. The day she got into London we were all unloaded, and leaving. I have orders to proceed to Tecumate, but I don't know where we will go from there. I hope we will come to Boston but I kind of think we will be sent back here.

"Jan. 20, Lat. 37.35 N., Lon. 28.40 W. We are coming along in very good shape, but it got so rough this morning we had to leave her too for awhile. It has moderated now, and we are running full speed once more. She finds a hole once in a while to fall into. I am in hopes after we get over by Bermuda, that we will run out of these westerly gales. We have certainly had our share of them on this trip.

"Everything is going along about the same on board. How my steward crew will stay, for it is the best ever-the only good bunch I ever had. They are grand cooks, and right on their job all the time.

"Jan. 26, Lat. 31.49 N., Lon. 50.55 W. 700 miles east of Bermuda. I will write you a few more lines if I can sit here and not roll out of my chair. We have just passed through another storm. The wind has died down, but there is still a big sea running, and we are rolling pretty bad. It got so rough yesterday that I had to put more ballast in her. I have now 7,568 tons in her bowels and I hope that will hold her down for awhile. This has been the worst trip I have ever seen. I have had a gale of wind ever since I came out of Southampton. I kept running south in hopes to get out of it, but I guess I would have had to run down to the equator. We are now down in Lat. 31.30 N. We will be abeam of Bermuda by Sunday, if all goes well, and then I will head her for the Hole in the Wall. I am in hopes to get my orders by the time I get there. Then I will know what my sentence is for the next trip.

"The chief has got all the oil tankers he wants, and is going to quit when he gets in. I guess all his crowd will go with him. He says he has been to sea for 30 years, and this is the worst trip he ever had. He doesn't think much of rafting oil across the North Atlantic in the winter. I have had a good chance to try this ship out this trip, and she is all right I can tell you. She is right on her job all the times and rides very easy in the sea way.

"Did I tell you that Capt. Burdick was mooring master down in Pabo Blanco, Mex. He moored me the last time we were there in this ship. He has his wife there, and says he likes all right.

"I am wondering what kind of weather you have had up North this winter. I can tell you that for the last two months it has blown some in the North Atlantic, mostly west, and northwest winds. We had one southwest, and it is still rough. In the summer they are not so bad.

"Jan. 30, Lat. 26.41 N., Lon. 74.34 W. We are getting over near the States once more. I have had no orders as yet, so don't know just where we are to go, but I am in hopes it won't be overseas again this trip. We have had another blow from the northwest, and today it is just getting fairly good again, but there is quite a sea on yet. I am wondering if there is any boat on Down East now, and what is Charles Colony doing? Do you know if Fred Packard came home this trip or not, and if he is going on the Agwimex again?

"Thursday, Feb. 2, Lat. 24.08 N., Lon. 55.18 W., 190 miles west of Key West.

"We are in the Gulf of Mexico once more and it is fine day, nice and warm, the best we have had for a long time, and it seems real good. I came by Key West last night at 9, and am now proceeding towards Tecumate, to load for Boston. That is, we will go there if my orders are not changed. I hope to reach Tecumate by Sunday the 5th, and if all goes well should be in Boston the 15th. I expect it will be cold up there, and coming up from here I will feel it. Have not seen any snow thus far this winter.

EAST LIBERTY

Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Quigg of Palermo spent the weekend with relatives here. Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Black of Thomdike were at Herbert Ryan's over Sunday.

Mrs. Hazel Adams and Ethel Adams are in Waterville attending a W. C. T. U. institute.

Mrs. Harriet M. (Philbrick) Cram, who was born in Hope, Sept. 25, 1841, died at her home here Feb. 3. She was the widow of the late Saml. D. Cram and since the death of her husband has lived on the home place with her youngest son, Simeon K., who did everything to make her comfortable, but the angel of death came and relieved her from her suffering, caused by blood poisoning, which set in from a tiny cut on her thumb. Besides the above mentioned son, two others remain, Danvas of Newport, and Edwin H. of South Montville, also a sister, Mrs. Etta Cram of Montville. Mrs. Cram was a good, Christian woman, and a very kind and obliging neighbor. She will be greatly missed, not only in her family, but in the community as she is one of our oldest residents. A large number of people listened to the words of truth and comfort spoken by W. E. Overlock at her funeral which was held from her home Sunday, Feb. 5. A profusion of beautiful flowers spoke of the esteem in which she was held.

WALDOBORO

Herbert Prince went to Worcester, Mass., Monday.

Miss Myrtle Fiske of Damariscotta and Mrs. George R. Davis of North Waldoboro have been recent guests of Miss Annie O. Welt.

The services Sunday at the Baptist church will be observed by a sermon by the pastor, Rev. Stephen H. Talbot, "The Inspiration of a Gail"; Sunday School at 12 and the evening services at 7 p. m. The topic for the evening will be "The Choice of a Friend."

The annual roll call of Good Luck Rebekah Lodge will be held in Odd Fellows hall the next regular meeting, Tuesday, Feb. 21.

The correspondent wishes to correct an error made last week in reporting the death of Mrs. John Fossett of Union. The item should have read John Fossett. Mrs. Fossett is a sister of Herman Nash and Mrs. Roscoe L. Benner and is well known in town.

In the American Bee Journal for February Frank C. Pellet himself a writer of note has contributed an interesting article about our townsman, John H. Lovell. Mr. Pellet speaks in high terms of Mr. Lovell as among the most conspicuous of present day field naturalists and commends his book, "The Flower and the Bee." He writes of a visit to the home of Mr. Lovell in Waldoboro and incidentally speaks of the beautiful scenery around the town. The Republican voters held a caucus in the Engine hall Friday, Feb. 10. Charles W. Wallace was elected chairman and Maynard H. Kuhn secretary of the meeting. The following list of delegates were appointed for the State District Convention to be held in Bangor April 6: Stephen A. Jones, Everett C. Teague, Dr. D. B. Mayo, Mrs. Maude Clark Gay, Miss Marcia Blaney, Alternates: Harold R. Smith, Levi Parsons, John T. Gay, George W. Hilton, Mrs. D. B. Mayo. The following officers of the Town Committee were then elected: Maynard H. Kuhn, chairman; Maude Clark Gay, vice-chairman; Charles W. Wallace, secretary. A motion was made and carried to the effect that the chairman of the committee be given power to choose the remaining members of the committee. Meeting adjourned.

The Social Club met with Mrs. E. R. Moody Thursday, Feb. 9, with 11 members and one visitor present. Clippings and items of interest were read; readings by members and music on the victrola. Refreshments were served. Next meeting will be held with Mrs. George Moody, Wednesday, Feb. 22, instead of Thursday. Each member is to dress to represent a book.

GREEK TEMPLE DISCOVERED

It is announced that the archaeological service in Thessaly has informed the minister of education of the discovery of an Olympian temple at Ferres near Velesion, of the fourth century before the present era. The temple, it is stated, resembles that at Olympia; it is in a good state of preservation and has 10 bronze plaques with laws and decrees.

SOME MEN CAN'T BE SATISFIED

GUILD CONCERT O' HIMSELF

Mother was telling her caller how she had sent one of her six-year-old boy's bright remarks to a newspaper and received a dollar for it, when the little fellow entered the room. Overhearing her, he said: "Mother, if you'll just listen to all I say and send it to the paper you'll make enough to support the whole family."—Boston Transcript.

AT ROCKPORT HIGH

Lots of Absentees—Basketball Girls Awaken—The Bobbed Hair Epidemic.

Public schools of Rockport closed and school flags were flown at half mast Wednesday afternoon, as a tribute to the late Mr. Butler, who has served the past year as chairman of the school committee.

For the past two weeks, the attendance records of our schools show an altogether too great absence percentage. It is generally believed that this is due to the scarlet fever scare which has been rumored broadcast throughout the town. If this supposition is true the authorities wish to urge the fact that only a very few cases of this disease exist and that the precaution has been taken against the spreading.

The famous senior play which brought down the house at Shepherd's Hall, Dec. 31, will be repeated Monday, Feb. 20, at the Glen Cove Grange Hall. This time the proceeds will go to the R. H. S. Athletic Association, by courtesy of the Seniors. If any were unable to attend the first production, they should not fail to be present Monday. After the play the management will feature a dance with the best music to be obtained. Watch for the tall announcement.

We note that the bobbed hair fad which wore itself out in Paris two years ago, has recently overcome our local damsels. Sounds like the old days of the stage coach! But, "mumma" wants me to.

Until the past few weeks nothing has been said of the R. H. S. girls' basketball team, but now the fair sex have come from the shadow into the glare of the limelight. They have formed their team upon their own initiative without the aid of a coach and it is comprised entirely of Sophomores and Freshmen. Thus far, they have played three games with Camden High, a team which averages much taller and which outweighs the Rockport team by at least fifty pounds, winning one, losing one, and tying one. The tie will be played off in Rockport in the near future. Their exhibition of gameness last Friday when they held Camden to the 17-17 tie merits something more than mere praise. They are now building up a schedule and will give the public something in the way of good basketball before the season expires.

The R. H. S. boys lost to C. H. S. last Friday. All right, Camden. "Till we meet again."

The boys' team is rapidly improving, but is not receiving the local support that it should. Last year, when we were steadily winning, we were steadily backed up by the locals, for which we are greatly indebted. We would appreciate the same showing now and would probably back up and win a few. We are playing the game for the same itself, for what we get out of it, not merely to win all the time. In the near future there are scheduled a good many home games at the ridiculous price of 25¢. Let's be a knocker! Be a booster!

Wednesday's game with Belfast was indefinitely postponed, owing to the storm. However, Rockport's second team won from Rockland 18-10.

The account of Friday's games with Thomaston will be found elsewhere in this edition. Turn the pages easily.

On next Tuesday, Feb. 21, the Rockport team (boys) will play Friday's game Normal at Camden. The management has chartered the steamer Castine and will run an excursion. The fare for the round trip will be only one dollar. An attempt will be made to have the steamer bring us around to the Rockport landing on the return. The trip will not be made unless the weather is very favorable. Let's make it a profitable excursion.

ROCKPORT

Mrs. Marian Bassett of Brockton, Mass., is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Jennie Hartford.

Miss Ruth Altonen was the guest of Miss Charlotte Roberts Tuesday.

The Senior class R. H. S. gave Miss Gladys Kaler a surprise party Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. H. M. Farrow, Glen Cove, which was a most delightful occasion. Games and music were enjoyed and refreshments were served.

Mrs. Andrew Young has been confined to her home by illness this week. Mrs. Lucy Cabes aged 67 years, died Feb. 15 after an illness of several years. Her home was formerly in Rockland. Funeral services were held this morning at 10 o'clock. Walter Carroll has been spending a few days at Sidney Andrews' in West Rockport.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin P. Paul, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Paul, Mrs. S. Josephine Wall and Weston and Melvin Wall were in Rockland Thursday to attend the funeral services of Joseph Clough, formerly of Rockport.

Capt. E. O. Patterson left Thursday to spend ten days with his son Ross E. Patterson in Hartford and New York.

The Fourth Quarterly Conference was held at the Methodist church Tuesday evening at which the District Supt. Rev. J. H. Grey was present. Supper was served by the Ladies' Aid and was enjoyed by a large number. Among the invited guests were Rev. and Mrs. B. W. Russell, of Camden, Evangelist A. J. Saunders, Gordon S. Beckett, Miss Hazel Lane, and the members of the official board. The following trustees were chosen for the year ensuing: Dr. S. Y. Weidman, George R. Hewes, Arthur Berry, William A. Paul, Charles Berry, William Spear and Henry Davis. The stewards were George R. Hewes, Henry Davis, Earl Duntun, Arthur Berry, Mrs. Annie Louise Small, Mrs. Eva Davis, Mrs. Cecelia Cain, Mrs. Olive Walker, Mrs. Lizzie Berry, Mrs. Nettie Stanley, Mrs. Annie Laurie Small, Mrs. Emma Torrey, Mrs. Ella Hewes, Mrs. Delora Morrill.

The Harbor Light Chapter, O. E. S., will hold their anniversary Tuesday evening after the regular meeting. The 6 o'clock supper will be omitted. Earl C. Dow has announced that he will be a candidate for the office of First Selectman in the coming town election.

Miss Athalia Trulan is the guest of Mrs. E. O. Patterson for a few days. Mrs. Jessie Huntley who has been nursing at O. P. Jackson's for the past three weeks has returned to her home.

Several from here attended the funeral of Mrs. Nettie McDonnell in Camden Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Marion Huntley, entertained several of her friends Wednesday evening. Refreshments were served and a very pleasant evening was spent in music and games.

Mrs. Flora Butterfield is caring for Mrs. Ellinwood in Camden.

VINALHAVEN

The Willing Workers hold a cake and candy sale at Union church every third afternoon.

Rehearsals for the minstrels to be given under the auspices of the American Legion are progressing and much interest is shown. The Airship Flight Contest at Union church Sunday School is creating quite an interest among the boys and girls as well as the grown ups. All ships went ahead last Sunday but one and by next Sunday that one may surprise them all. The pastor Rev. C. H. B. Seliger has formed a bible class of men and would like new members. All are welcome.

Miss Louise Libby entertained friends Tuesday evening at her home in honor of St. Valentine's Day. There were the usual appropriate decorations of hearts and valentines. A delicious luncheon was served and all made merry with games and dancing. The third selectman has been confined to her home the past week by illness. She is now convalescing and will soon be able to attend to her duties.

The valentine ball given at Town hall under the auspices of The Silent Sisters was a social success, and quite a sum of money was netted to swell the charity fund.

Capt. and Mrs. Conley of Camden have been guests the past week of Capt. and Mrs. F. S. Roberts.

Olivia H. Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Freeman A. Brown was united in marriage Tuesday evening to Hugh D. Rossiter of Camden. The ceremony was performed at Union church by the pastor Rev. C. H. B. Seliger. The bride couple were unattended. Mr. Rossiter is mate on the S. S. Phyllis Publica and after a short visit with the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rossiter will leave for Philadelphia, where they will make their home.

Philip Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Barton, died Saturday Feb. 11, aged 1 year. Services were held Tuesday at the home, Elder Newman Wilson of the Latter Day Saints church officiating. The floral offerings were beautiful. Interment was made at Bay View cemetery.

Marguerite Chapter O. E. S. will hold its regular meeting Monday Feb. 20. There will be work on candidates.

The schools will be in session Feb. 22. A part of the day will be devoted to appropriate exercises.

NORTH HAVEN

The High School Athletic Association will hold a dance in the K. of P. Hall Monday evening. Clam stew, doughnuts and coffee will be on sale. Be sure to attend and show the High School scholars you are back of them in all good clean sports.

The following officers of Gloria Temple were installed last Monday evening in a very able and pleasing manner by Sister Ella Ames, D. D. G. C., assisted by Lillian Hopkins, G. S., and Lenora Cooper, G. M.; Eva Hopkins, M. E. C.; Lenora Dickey, E. S.; Nellie York, E. S.; May Merrick, Manager; Emma Stone, M. of F.; Mabelle Stone, M. of R. & C.; Flora Marden, Guard; Gertrude Snow, Protector. After the officers received their capes and jewels of office a very pretty tableau was formed consisting of the officers, Grand officers and Flora with four little children as flower bearers. Elizabeth Greenlaw took the part of Flora and her small attendants were Helen Stone, Edith Cooper, Julia Smith and Mabelle Bray. The degree staff put on some very pretty floor work with three tableaux, Rock of Ages, Columbia and Star Spangled Banner. The North Haven Musical Club played several selections before the installation. A social time and dance was enjoyed after the work.

ARNOLD BENNETT ON WORDS

Repetition Better Than the Use of Bad English, is the Contention of Noted Writer.

Arnold Bennett hates half-means, and especially he hates inexact words. He quotes from a London daily and holds up to ridicule "The King and queen were present at a first night in a London theater last evening for the initial time in their reign." His comments are instructive. Malcolm Cowley writes in the Literary Review: "It is quite a first-rate example of bad English. The culprit, whose name is well known to myself and other members of the London literary police force, evidently thought that it would be inelegant to use the same word twice in two lines; so he substituted 'initial' for 'first' in the second line. * * * Perhaps he had never reflected that words express ideas, and that therefore if a precise idea recurs, the precise word for that idea ought to recur. The idea expressed by the word 'first' is precise enough, and no other English word means what 'first' means. Certainly 'initial' does not mean 'first'. Still, the man meant well. His misfortune was that, having picked up a good notion without examining it, he imagined that repetition was inelegant in itself. Repetition is only wrong when it is unintentional, and when, being horrid to the ear, it is reasonably and honestly avoidable. On the other hand, repetition, used with tact and courage, may achieve not merely elegance but positive brilliance."

Here is Bennett's style both in theory and practice, and the practice agrees with the theory. The passage is not merely clear, but it is brilliantly so. The trouble is that Bennett often goes out of his way to repeat himself.

HEARTS AFFECTED BY FEAR

Armenian Children Slow in Recovery From Terrors to Which They Were Long Subjected.

According to Dr. Mabel Elliott, head of the American Woman's Hospitals, who is now serving with the Near East Relief at Ismid, Turkey, a large number of the Armenian children under her care are suffering from enlarged hearts or other forms of heart disease, due to the constant fear to which they have been prey during the past few years.

Relief workers in the Near East have long been familiar with the mental petrification due to the terrible experience through which these children have passed, most of them having forgotten everything of their past, their names, their homes and their language included, but this is the first instance that has been recorded of the effect of fear on their hearts.

The cure which Dr. Elliott is practicing with these children is a combination of mental and medical. First of all, they are made to realize that they are entirely out of danger and among friends. Then they are put on a special diet of nourishing foods and certain exercises are prescribed. The results so far have been remarkably successful.

IN THE GRADES

What the Bright and Busy Youngsters Are Doing In the Rockland Schools.

The following pupils of Grade 8-B were not absent or tardy during the last six weeks and were dismissed half an hour early Friday afternoon: Martha Bodman, Annie Delmonico, Harriet Grover, Kathleen Haskell, Minerva Stover, Gordon Davis, Rowland Ames, Leonard Campbell, Dana Cummings, Foster Finfield, Wendell Flint, Francis Merchant, Henry Day, and Henrietta Libby. Those averaging 90% in their studies for the last month are Eileen Ahlberg, John Anderson, Helen Collett, Celia Dyer, Annie Delmonico, Bertha Smalley, Ethel Smalley, Charles Staples, Gordon Davis, Henry Day, Henrietta Libby, and Anna Richardson. The percentage of attendance for the month is 96.05%. Friday afternoon the pupils dramatized "Evangelist" and the other eighth grades were guests.

The Reds of Grade 7-C have again won in the monthly arithmetic contest, the score being 124 to 82. The pupils who accomplished all the written work assigned for the month are Eva Brown, Arlene Chapin, Annie Cayton, Grace Curtis, Nicholas, D'Amelio, Hattie Johnson, Richard Starks, Marcena Wilson, Fred Wotton, Kenneth Overlock, and Maurice Frye. Truth is the subject of the opening exercises this week in Grade 7-C. They are in charge of Group A.

The pupils in Grade 6, McLain are having a French reunion, assuming that they are soldiers returning from France, they relate what they know of the country. In connection with this work they are reading Joan of Arc, George Wood, Theodore Bird, and Charlotte Brown are also entertaining the class with the story of "The Tale of Two Cities."

Bertha and Ethel Smalley and Celia Dyer are taking charge of the morning exercises in Grade 8-B this week. Lincoln programs consisting of poems, quotations, and sketches of Lincoln's life have been given.

The following pupils of Grade 8-C were not absent or tardy the first half of this term, so were given the privilege of going half an hour earlier on Friday afternoon: Clara Boardman, Lockhart Curry, Lillian Dean, Winifred Doherty, Sheldon Gray, Frederica Sylvester, Frederick Seavey, and Thelma Thompson.

Those in Grade 8-C receiving A plus rank in last week's examinations are: Gertrude Aylward, Shirley Povick, Mabel Goodwin, and Charles McIntosh.

Ruth Stevenson and Nellie Snow have had charge of the indoor game period in Grade 8-A this week. Usually high ranks were attained in the monthly tests given in this grade the past week. From the 155 papers passed in the following results were obtained: 31 100's; 45 between 95 and 100; 43 between 90 and 95; 15 between 85 and 90; 11 between 80 and 85; and only 10 below 80.

The pupils having an average rank between 95 and 100 in Grade 8-A for the fifth month are: Katherine Veazie, 97.43; Norman Waldron, 97.24; Nellie Snow, 97.14; Wilbur Frohock, 97.03; Lawrence Barbour, 96.65; Oliver Rollins, 96.48; Ruth Stevenson, 96.42; Ruth Clark, 96.37; Arthur Orne, 96.11; William Wood, 96.76; Martha Waggatt, 95.53; Walter Richardson, 95.29.

Grade 8-A is to hold its Asiatic prize poster and essay contest on Friday, February 24. If you are interested in Oriental life, they invite you to spend the afternoon of that day with them.

Purchase Street, Grade 6, wishes to thank George Halstead for a book for the school library, also Capt. Connors for the two book shelves built into the room. There is plenty of room for new books. The history lesson in this grade last Monday took the form of an afternoon with Lincoln. Quizzes, stories, questions, and poems relating to this great man were brought into the class. Much outside work was done by the pupils.

In Grade 2, Crescent, those who have had correct papers in spelling were, Nettie Richardson, Kenneth Cousins, and Hazel Staples. Bessie Metcalf brought us the first pussy willow.

Lloyd Fernald and Maynard Gray were the mail carriers to distribute the valentines in Grade 5, Tyler building, Tuesday.

In Grade 2, Purchase, Walter Willey, Angelo Escorsio, Lillie Tepper, and Doris White had most star papers for the past week. This grade has the banner for best attendance for the past week.

The following pupils of Grade 2 Purchase had perfect attendance for month ending February 10: Viola Joy, Emma Brann, Flora Colson, Frances Dyer, Elizabeth Griffin, Mary Escorsio, Edward Huntley, John Moulson, Anna Escorsio, Alden Post, Kenneth Orcutt, Freda Searles, Andrew Larkin, Esther Pease, William Ripley, and Doris White.

The teachers of the Tyler Building have all enrolled as members of the N. E. A.

Mrs. R. U. Clark and Miss Helen Thompson are substituting in Grades 2 and 3 Tyler Building in the absence of the regular teachers, who are housed with bad colds.

Mario Ferrero has been chosen cheer leader for Grade 6 Tyler Building. Hearty cheers are often given for the Palmer Method.

Those in Grade 1 McLain school who had the best writing papers using the Palmer system this week were: Rachel Brown, Burton Bickmore, Lois Torrey, Gerald Black, Virginia Piper, Earle McMahon, Herbert Spear, Frances Knowlton, Marion Carr, Kathleen Bunker, Alden Johnson, Louise Vose. They were all Kings and Queens of Hearts Tuesday in this grade and wore the crowns of hearts that were made in the drawing lesson.

Stars have been given to 13 pupils in Grade 1 Crescent Street, denoting correct arithmetic papers for the entire

A SWEET LITTLE BABY BOY

Makes a Bright Spot in Every Home. A Comfort in Years to Come

Park Rapids, Minnesota. "I have taken your medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, when I was a girl for pains and before and after my marriage. I now have a sweet little baby boy and will send you his picture if you wish to publish it. My sisters also take your medicine and find it a great help, and I recommend it to those who suffer before their babies are born."—Mrs. Wm. Johnson, Box 155, Park Rapids, Minn.

To marry and arrive at middle age without children is a great disappointment to many women. Think of the joy children as they grow older. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped to bring great happiness to many families by restoring women to health. Often the childless home is due to a run down condition of the wife, which may be helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It brought health and happiness into the home of Mrs. Johnson. Why not to yours?

Those receiving the coveted stars are Mary Ginn, Bernadette Snow, Velozora Look, David Richardson, Margaret Robinson, Leland Seavey, Vivian Cousins, Mabel Hall, Ralph Colby, Maurice Shepherd, Earle McAuliffe, Elizabeth Spewel, Isabelle Hooper, Jessie Achorn, Marion Webster, Norma Huntley, Eugene Staples and Joseph Tarvis.

Faith Lurvey has presented to Grades 1 and 2 at Crescent Street a large framed picture of Lincoln.

Grade 8-A enjoyed all day Tuesday a very sweet valentine in the shape of three fragrant pink brought in by Vera Studley. Katherine Veazie had charge of the valentine decorations and Hugh Little acted as postmaster. Instead of bringing valentines to the teacher the grade followed its usual custom of sending them to a half dozen of the pupils in the lower grades who might not be otherwise remembered. Phyllis Dyer contributed enough white paper for the entire number of programs to be used in the Oriental Contest.

The following pupils in Grades 2 and 3, McLain, were neither absent nor tardy the past six weeks: David Knowlton, Barbara Blaisdel, Jennie Cohen, Francis McAuliffe, Lucy French, Libera Paladino, Jr., and Robert Husey. Lucy French, Henry Benson, Madeline Coffey, Bertha Knight, Francis McAuliffe, Dorothy Lindberg, Nelson Rokes, Virginia Proctor, David and Donald Cole, Dick Knowlton, Clinton Fickett, Libera Paladino, Jr., and Dorothy Lawry have passed in the best arithmetic papers the past month in Grade 2.

Herbert Huntley, Mary Lawrence, Antoinette Lachance, David Knowlton, and Dorothy Aylward have passed in the best arithmetic papers in Grade 3.

In Grade 7-A for the past month Mary Johnson ranks first, not only in studies, but in effort and conduct as well. Next to her are Edith Raye, Ethel Quinn, and Mary Sylvester. The class is very busy at present preparing for their big North American product contest which takes place on March 3. Each boy and girl in the class is to have a product map of North America and a poster on his or her subject of the two minute speeches on products which are to make up the afternoon's program. Judges are to be present, and it is hoped that all parents and friends of the class will also be present.

The pupils of Grade 5 Grace Street visited the Kindergarten Monday during the recess period. "The Farmer in the Dell" proved to be a very popular game. The fun was shared equally by both classes.

In Grade 8, Crescent, those who have had correct papers in spelling were, Nettie Richardson, Kenneth Cousins, and Hazel Staples. Bessie Metcalf brought us the first pussy willow.

Lloyd Fernald and Maynard Gray were the mail carriers to distribute the valentines in Grade 5, Tyler building, Tuesday.

In Grade 2, Purchase, Walter Willey, Angelo Escorsio, Lillie Tepper, and Doris White had most star papers for the past week. This grade has the banner for best attendance for the past week.

The following pupils of Grade 2 Purchase had perfect attendance for month ending February 10: Viola Joy, Emma Brann, Flora Colson, Frances Dyer, Elizabeth Griffin, Mary Escorsio, Edward Huntley, John Moulson, Anna Escorsio, Alden Post, Kenneth Orcutt, Freda Searles, Andrew Larkin, Esther Pease, William Ripley, and Doris White.

The teachers of the Tyler Building have all enrolled as members of the N. E. A.

Mrs. R. U. Clark and Miss Helen Thompson are substituting in Grades 2 and 3 Tyler Building in the absence of the regular teachers, who are housed with bad colds.

Mario Ferrero has been chosen cheer leader for Grade 6 Tyler Building. Hearty cheers are often given for the Palmer Method.

Those in Grade 1 McLain school who had the best writing papers using the Palmer system this week were: Rachel Brown, Burton Bickmore, Lois Torrey, Gerald Black, Virginia Piper, Earle McMahon, Herbert Spear, Frances Knowlton, Marion Carr, Kathleen Bunker, Alden Johnson, Louise Vose. They were all Kings and Queens of Hearts Tuesday in this grade and wore the crowns of hearts that were made in the drawing lesson.

Stars have been given to 13 pupils in Grade 1 Crescent Street, denoting correct arithmetic papers for the entire term.

"AROUND THE WORLD"

Unique Entertainment In Cocoonat Grove Given By Club of Which Mrs. E. M. Lawrence is President.

Mrs. E. M. Lawrence, who is spending the winter in Cocoonat Grove, Fla., is there continuing her social activities, and with much success may be judged from the fact that the club of which she is president netted $2400 from a recent entertainment. From an extended account of it which appeared in the Miami Herald, the following extracts are taken.

Over $2400 was made by the Housekeepers' Club when it gave a stupendous entertainment which took the crowds to two of the famous winter homes, a handsome Spanish villa and the new clubhouse. In the trip around the world as it was called, the home of William Jennings Bryan, which represented America, was visited first. The great commoner himself greeted each guest with a hearty handshake. In line with him was Mrs. E. M. Lawrence, president of the Housekeepers' club.

Two peace doves hung over the Bryan driveway. Hardly school girls dressed as Girl Scouts stood at attention along the drive and Boy Scouts assisted in the grounds. Punch was served from a large table under the trees.

Martha and George Washington, Uncle Sam, Columbia, John Alden and Pocahontas, Betsy Ross, a cowboy and cowgirl, a Confederate soldier, a Red Cross nurse, a Salvation Army lass, a soldier and a sailor, and a lady of 1840, 1850, 1860 and 1870 were present. In fact, every phase of American life from the earliest days were represented. Those in costume marched among the guests, that all might see the change in American life since its beginning.

There was a Seminole camp with a Seminole man, woman and tiny papoose. In another part of the grounds was a Navajo Indian camp, with the wigwam made of Navajo blankets. A real Indian princess and another Indian maid presided there.

Even a sketch of the northern part of America was given. There was an Eskimo hut covered with artificial snow, an Eskimo represented by Miss Gretchen Green, an Eskimo dog and a polar bear.

A Boy Scout announced with a bugle that the musical numbers would take place. The singers came onto a balcony overlooking the crowd, all of the songs were patriotic and truly American. After the program Kitty Owen and Elizabeth McKenney joined the bugler on the balcony and stood on either side of Miss Anna Selden dressed as "America." As the crowd sang "Star Spangled Banner" Miss Selden extended her arms, which held two large American flags. The entire scene was patriotic and inspiring.

At the Arthur Curtiss James estate Japan was the country represented. A pretty scene from the Mikado followed the procession of Japanese which came through the avenue of royal palms. Yum Yum came in a jinkish. Six young girls carried Japanese parasols, 24 younger girls carried baskets of chrysanthemums and a group of older women carried flower trays.

Tea was served on the tennis courts of the beautiful estate, the Japanese assisting in serving.

In the evening Spain was represented at the DeForest Christiane home, where Queen Isabella and her court held sway.

The bull fight was one of the most humorous incidents. The bull, a paper made affair cleverly constructed, fought diligently, even after being wounded, but was finally led away completely tamed by the matador.

Hot chocolate and crackers were served the guests before they set out for France, where the characters from all countries gathered.

After the program the characters of each country crossed the stage, that the audience might again see the representatives of each country together. Mrs. Lawrence, the president of the club, was introduced and thanked for her splendid work in getting up the trip. Mrs. George, who directed the Mikado, was brought to the platform, as was each chairman: America, Miss Helen Lester; Japan, Mrs. D. C. Roberts; Spain, Mrs. DeF. Christie; France, Mrs. E. E. Woolley.

The Urmy orchestra furnished music for dancing, and all the people of all countries joined in United States dancing. The Community Club and the Housekeepers' Club were both used to accommodate the crowds. Refreshments were served late in the evening.

The entertainment was one of the most interesting that has ever been attempted in this country, and was voted a most unusual success. Everything was given on a large scale, but it was not too large to accommodate the crowd who took this way of helping the Housekeepers' Club pay off the debt on their new building.

MAX DYER'S DREAM

Bellboy Polo Fan Organizes the "Pirates," With Skull and Crossbones, 'n Every-thing.

A polo ship is in the offing with the black flag of piracy flaunting boldly from her masthead, whose blood-thirsty crew will be known as the Pirates, and whose identity will be readily recognized by an ominous skull and cross bones painted upon their respective chests. Fetch aft the weapons! Five bad actors on a dead man's floor! Yo, ho ho! and a gory stick!

Sponsor and investigator of the piratical crew is Max Dyer, imaginative and sporting bell boy at the Thorn-dike Hotel. First rush and cut throat captain is to be Spear Naum, Albanian bootblack who blacks shoes at The Brook when he isn't wielding a wild hockey stick. Second rush is to be the dauntless Max, who figures he can consummate a fast and furious polo series between bells at the Thorn-dike. Fred Ingerson as center, who doesn't seem to be ostensibly qualified other than possessed with a fevered anxiety to be up and at 'em, "Pat" McAuliffe, whose father was first rush on the famous H. M. B's, Rockland's first polo team, (which certainly ought to qualify young "Pat" and Clark Staples, whose distinction as "good tender" will be two extra sets of skulls and cross bones, one on each knee, is the sum total of the blood-thirsty crew, as conceived in the pink of inspiration by Mr. Maxfield Dyer of the Hotel Thorndike, who hasn't missed a polo game this season.

In an interview this morning Mr. Dyer said in part: "This has always been a dream of mine, and the idea is to get some young blood into the game. We haven't made any out of town arrangements yet, for we don't know much about the game; but if Mr. Allen'll let us have the rink to practice in some of the time mornings, we can get a few ideas of the game, then we may be able to arrange a series that will make 'em sit 'round here. We're gonna have white jerseys with skull and crossbones painted on 'em an' long khaki pants cut off short 'cause more wind can get to you. Everybody wants to get going and if a satisfactory deal can be made with Mr. Allen, we're off, practically speakin'." We figure we can buy our sticks, make our pads and borrow some old skates to begin on.

"How did I happen to think of the Pirates as a name? Why, it just came to me last night before goin' to sleep—sounds blood thirstier'n Mid-gets. We thought of callin' ourselves Midgets, but Pirates is a better name. Don't you think so? Anyway it's gonna be some team. The good tender'll wear three skulls an' the rest of us just one. You'd better say in the paper that we thought 'twould be a good idea to get some young blood into the game. We don't know much about roller polo yet, but that don't mean we won't if everything works out."

BRUSH BABY'S TEETH

And Habit Formed in Childhood Makes For Clean Mouths and Good Health.

The following article is contributed by Dr. T. E. Tibbitts in his capacity as chairman of the oral hygiene committee of the Penobscot Bay Dental Club:

The time has arrived when you must teach the little children how to care for their teeth and also impress upon their mothers the need of brushing the babies' teeth, and as the child grows older, establish the habit of cleaning the teeth and mouth so that he or she will feel that the mouth is not right without brushing the teeth after each meal. You must also do all you can to keep the child's digestion in perfect condition; coarse grain muffins once a day, with not too much candy. With the digestion in order the saliva has a way of taking care of tartar, and the nature in this way wards off disease.

Preventive dentistry is the only way to improve the condition in the mouths of the rising generation. In teaching and talking this subject over we must use the most simple language to convey our meaning in order that the mothers will receive it better and be more impressed with the subject.

As we are passing along on this line at this time, I must give the alarm and tell you to see that the baby does not suck his thumb or breathe through his mouth. These habits narrow the arch and destroy the symmetry of the face, which in later years will cost lots of money to correct.

Now for the child's comfort, and to guide the permanent teeth in their right and relative position for mastication and good looks, you must keep the first teeth filled before the cavities are too large and the nerves exposed. If this is done in time, there will be no pain, and as you have not hurt the child, you still have his confidence later on.

When the child is six years old and back of all the baby teeth come the first permanent teeth, large molars on either side, two below and the same above. Now with all the first teeth in their position these four teeth, "the six year old molars," when developed, are the keystones as it were to the dental arches for their general development and the good appearance of the mouth. On the other hand, if you neglect one of the last molar teeth of the first set and it has to be extracted, this six year molar will develop too far to the front and will destroy all the symmetry of one tooth to another.

This movement in preventive dentistry and oral hygiene is sweeping through every State in the Union, and also through Europe.

It is a well known fact that five of the most common diseases originate in unclean mouths; so I think we all will do well to look to oral hygiene for an improvement of our condition.

NEW TAX REGULATIONS

Have Been Issued Since Repeal of So-Called Luxury Tax.

Hon. Frank J. Ham collector of internal revenue for the District of Maine, said Tuesday, that with the repeal by the revenue act of 1921 of the so-called "luxury tax" on articles of men's and women's wearing apparel and other changes in tax legislation new regulations have been issued relating respectively to the excise tax on sales by the manufacturer of certain articles—automobiles and accessories, cameras, candy, firearms, cigar and cigarette holders, liveries, hunting garments, carpets, rugs, trunks, etc., and the excise tax on works of art and jewelry.

"The principal changes in the latter taxes are that the tax on works of art is reduced from 10 to 5 per cent, and that the tax on jewelry and similar articles which remain at 5 per cent, no longer includes gold or silver ornamented glasses and spectacles," said Collector Ham.

"The tax on works of art attaches on all sales except the original sale by the artist, a sale to an educational institution or public art museum and sales by dealers for resale."

"While the tax on musical instruments has been repealed, certain instruments such as cornets, clarinets, etc., if made of or ornamented with silver or other precious metals are taxable."

"Fountain pens equipped with gold points are also taxable."

"Monthly returns and payments of the tax on works of art and jewelry are required of the vendor."

"Section 904 of the Revenue Act of 1918, which in the Revenue act of 1921 included the tax on certain articles of wearing apparel, provides only for a tax of 5 per cent, of the amounts paid for the following prices: Carpets, $4.50 a square yard; rugs, $6 a square yard; trunks $35 each; valises, traveling bags, suit cases, hat boxes used by travelers and fitted with toilet cases, $25 each; purses, pocket books, shopping and hand bags, $5 each; portable lighting fixtures, lamps of all kinds and lamp shades, $10 each; and fans, $1 each. This tax is not payable by the purchaser, but by the manufacturer, producer or importer, who are required to make monthly returns and payment."

"Copies of regulations 47 and 48 may be had on personal application at the office of the collector of Internal Revenue at Augusta and at the branch offices at Bangor and Portland."

THOMASTON

Williams-Brazier Post, American Legion, will give an oyster stew in K. P. hall at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday, Feb. 21. The Ladies' Auxiliary are to be the guests of the Post. All ex-service men of St. George, Friendship, Cushing and Thomaston whether members of the Legion or not are cordially invited to be present.

Beta Alpha will meet Monday evening with Miss Nellie Gardiner. Mrs. John Mitchell entertained friends from Rockland Thursday afternoon. Delicious refreshments were served.

Miss Lella Clark leaves for Boston and Worcester Monday to spend a week with friends and relatives.

Eighteen degrees below zero yesterday morning classes Wednesday as one of the three extremely cold days belonging to February.

Baptist church services Sunday at 10:30 a. m. and 7 p. m. The music at the morning service consists of an anthem by the choir and a solo by Miss Mabelle Brown. Church school at 11:50 a. m. Service of praise and preaching at 7 p. m. pastor's subject, "The Glory of God in Man." Special music at this service consists of an anthem by the choir, a ladies' trio, and a solo by Mrs. Short. Choir rehearsal Tuesday evening at 7:30. Old folks' concert and social on Wednesday evening, for the church and congregation. The prayer meeting Thursday evening at 7 o'clock will be in the nature of an open forum.

At the Methodist church last Monday at 6:30 o'clock, a goodly number of the members of the Methodist Brotherhood and their friends partook of a bountiful supper consisting of baked beans, salads, pies, cake, doughnuts, bread and coffee. After the supper, the men gathered for their business meeting, and at that time they voted to admit boys and girls from the age of 16 to 95. Also they changed their name to "Wesley Forum." Several of the ladies have already joined and others will do so at an early date. Friends, salute the "Wesley Forum!" Wednesday, Feb. 15, was Ladies' Aid Day, and despite the snow storm which hourly increased in violence a large number of the ladies gathered in their cosy little parlor at the church where a puff was knotted and work was begun for the Easter Sale in April. Sunday, the services in the daytime will be as usual, preaching at 10:30, Church School at 12:30, Epworth League meeting at 3 o'clock, Epworth League meeting at 6:15 with Miss Cora Fogarty as leader. At the 7 o'clock service the speaker will be the Rev. James H. Gray, Supt. of the Western District of the East Maine Conference. At the close of the service, Mr. Gray will conduct the Fourth Quarterly Conference. This afternoon, at the 5 and 10 cent store, the Epworth League will have a cooked food sale. If you do not have time to cook on Saturday, go up and buy of the League.

The Christmas Club will meet with Mrs. Evelyn Peaslee Thursday evening.

"The Socii," a lively organization composed of the following members: Marian Starrett, Elizabeth Gilchrist, Annie Dunbar, Belle Orne, Maude Halstead, Alcida Hall, Harriet Canham, Lorinda Orne and Mildred Linken, have probably had the busiest week the club has known since its existence. Monday evening a shrimp-wiggle supper was given at the home of Miss Marian Starrett. On Wednesday night the Socii met again this time to celebrate Miss Halstead's birthday. The celebration was in the form of a fudge party followed by a midnight luncheon. On the following night the club was most delightfully entertained by Miss Canham. Delicious refreshments were served, while the remaining time was spent in music and dancing. Next week an interesting party is to be given for the Socii by Miss Lorinda Orne where all are to compete in a baby show.

Russell Davis and Bode Grafton received a telephone message late last night, informing them that the body of a friend of theirs was frozen in the snow about half way between Thomaston and Rockland. Russ and Bode quickly made preparations and hurried to the rescue. Silently, stepping first on one foot and then on the other, they approached a dark object which proved to be what they were searching for—the body of an old Ford car. Huddled inside was one Miles Weston, who had started for Rockland to call on a friend, benumbed with cold, for you must remember he had been huddled there many long, cold hours. The heroes speedily got their rescuing tackle in smooth working order and after a long, cold, tiresome trip had the Ford and Miles back in the warmth of the Thomaston Garage, which they were foolishly to have left on a night like last night. Setting out in such a hurry Bode forgot to include the Jake among the rescue tackle. Some claim it is better than gasoline when you are half frozen in the snow.

The following is taken from the Boston Transcript of Feb. 11: Allen M. Jameson, who was born in Thomaston, Me., on May 24, 1844, has died at his home, 157 Warren avenue, Wollaston, in which place he had been engaged in a real estate and insurance business since 1897. In his earlier years Mr. Jameson was a ship chandler in Boston. He was a member of Tremont Temple church in this city. Surviving him are a son, Dr. Charles A. Jameson; and a daughter, Mrs. W. O. Wellington, of Wollaston.

CAMDEN

A meeting of the baseball fans was held at the building last Thursday evening. Plans were talked over for the coming summer. It was decided to put on a minstrel show in the near future and the following committee was appointed to arrange for the same: John Taylor, W. S. Richards, Jack Kennedy, Lew Ogier, Oscar Emery. The committee is arranging for one of the best minstrel shows ever given here and expects to introduce talent never seen on the local stage. The money raised will be used to equip teams.

The 303rd Co. C. A. C., Maine National Guard, is to hold a military ball, March 9. There will be an exhibition drill and also a competition drill. Every man in the company will compete for a medal which is presented by Lieut.-Col. E. A. Robbins for the best drilled man in the company.

Fernald Warren, Earl Pitcher and Raymond Young have enlisted in the 303d Co.

E. B. Drinkwater has gone to Greenwich, Conn., where he has employment.

A very attractive valentine social and dance was held at Heald's dance hall Tuesday evening by the telephone operators. Refreshments were served at intermission by Miss Madeline Heel, Miss Viva Herrick, Miss Lola Hills and Mrs. Lucia Campbell, who were ably assisted by three young men daintily attired in cretonne aprons.

There will be a special meeting of Seaside Chapter, O. E. S., on Monday evening for the purpose of conferring the degree.

The Friends in Council will be entertained at the home of Mrs. Alonzo Knowlton Tuesday afternoon.

An old-fashioned Straw Hat ball will be held in Cleveland Hall this Saturday evening. All middle-aged people are invited.

There will be a drill rehearsal of the K. of P. degree team on Monday evening.

At the meeting of Knox Lodge, Pythian Sisters, on Tuesday evening, there will be a full degree staff rehearsal for a public drill.

Mrs. Lois Webster, Pitcher was graduated from Knox Hospital last Saturday.

Schools closed Friday for a period of one week.

CAMDEN HONOR PARTS

In awarding the honor parts of the 1922 Senior High School, it became necessary to resort to decimals of several figures, since several students have obtained consistently high marks. First honor is awarded to Katie McDonald; second to Lucille Hall; third to Gladys Fernald. The other parts will be announced soon.

NETTIE M. MACDONNELL

Mrs. Nettie M. Macdonnell of Camden died Saturday, very suddenly. Deceased was the only daughter of John J. and Alice M. Paul, and was born in Camden Sept. 8, 1889, and had always lived in that town. She attended the Camden High School for three years and then went to the Rockland Commercial College, where she was graduated. Afterwards she was employed for a long time in the Knox Registry of Deeds, where she proved herself very efficient. She had also been employed in the selectmen's office, Camden, and was an able assistant of her father, who has for many years been Camden's tax collector. Six years ago she was married to Frank J. Macdonnell of Camden, who survives her.

Mrs. Macdonnell was but 32 years of age, apparently in good health and much to live for. Kind and ever ready to help in the various causes in which she interested herself, she will be greatly missed by many friends and acquaintances. Mrs. Macdonnell was an active member of Seaside Chapter, O. E. S., Knox Temple, Pythian Sisters, and the Baptist Circle. She was also a member and treasurer of the Philanthropic Club of the Chestnut Street Baptist church. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Rev. T. M. Griffiths of the Baptist church officiating. There were many beautiful flowers.

The Local Merchant Who Fails to Advertise Is Losing Many Sales

A COMMERCIAL CLUB

Organized At Rockland High School, with Marie Wooster President — Typewriting Teams.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Lena K. Sargent a Commercial Club was formed at Rockland High School Feb. 3. The purpose is the well-being of the commercial department. It is both instructive and entertaining, and all pupils are eligible for membership who are not failing in their studies. The election of officers was held with all the formality of a regular city election. Cecil Elwell was clerk. These officers were elected: President, Marie Wooster; vice president, Ada Barbour; secretary and treasurer, Alice Dugan. Francis Kirkpatrick was chosen as chairman of the Club. Marie Wooster, Ruth Curtis, and Alice Dugan were chosen to draw up a Constitution. Other committees chosen were:

Membership—Leah Freeman, chairman; Lillian Dugan, Helen McWhinnie, Lillian Barter.

Program—Lenore Benner, chairman; Gwendolyn Condon, Helen Griffin, Virginia Sargent.

Social—Helen McLoon, chairman; Elizabeth Knight, Madeline Stover, Eileen Flanagan.

Correspondence—Nora Nelson, chairman; Gladys Tyler, Margaret Wells, Helen Fifield.

The enrollment is now 163; and there are several who have not yet joined. Meetings will be held every other Friday afternoon unless notice is otherwise given.

The second meeting of the Commercial Club was held Feb. 10. The opening number was a song by the club, under the direction of Miss Alice Dugan, with Miss Leah Freeman as accompanist. The constitution was read by Marie Wooster. A few more members were added to the social and correspondence committees. The chairman, Francis Kirkpatrick, presided over the meeting.

Watch our Sophomore bookkeeping class!

On Thursday the Senior shorthand class held a contest and voted for the girl who was dressed the most business-like; also for the girl who was the most business-like in her manner. Miss Madeline Ames was the winner of the first, with Ada Barbour a close second, and Esther Shapiro was the winner of the latter.

Camden High was obliged to admit Monday that Rockland High has it trimmed on typewriting.

Feb. 13 an assembly was called the first period in the afternoon for the Commercial students to witness a typewriting demonstration. Mr. Stappert was the artist. He wrote at the rate of 233 words a minute on a practice test. It was a very pleasing demonstration and we are all hoping to get at least 70 words per minute.

Typewriting teams are being organized in the Senior, Junior and Sophomore classes. To "make" the teams the students have to pass 15-minute speed tests with not more than five errors. Seniors must attain an average of 50 words a minute, Juniors 45 net words, and Sophomores 25 net words. Those on the teams now are:

Seniors—Francis Kirkpatrick, 3 errors, net 52; Alice Dugan, 3 errors, net 51; Mildred Oxtford, 4 errors, net 52; Kathleen Sukerforth, 3 errors, net 53. Juniors—Grace Sidelinger, 2 errors, net 54; Ruth Gamage, 5 errors, net 46. In one of the 15-minute tests, Grace Sidelinger, a Junior, averaged 54 net words per minute, with only two errors. This not only puts her on the team, but places her above the Seniors, who have only 53 net words per minute.

WARREN

Dr. Webb died Wednesday night.

"The River's End" at Glover Hall tonight.

The Rebekahs gave a valentine supper Tuesday.

The Community Chorus has been postponed until next Thursday night. Wednesday morning George Kallio, one of our well known citizens died at the age of 87 years. He had been in feeble health for several years, but was not confined to his home until within the past few weeks. Mr. Kallio was born in Warren May 10, 1835 and spent the greater part of his life on the old farm. Sept. 10, 1862 he enlisted in Co. B 24th Maine regiment and held the position of first lieutenant in his company until the regiment was mustered out of service, Aug. 25, 1863. In the spring of 1859 he united with the Baptist church and for 40 years has served as one of the deacons. For a long period he held the office of clerk. During his entire connection with the church he was one of its most faithful and loyal supporters. Although living at some distance he was seldom absent from the Sunday services. As an influential and financial supporter he will be greatly missed. Mr. Kallio was twice married and leaves three daughters, Mrs. W. O. Rockford, Mrs. T. M. Kemistom and Miss Mary E. Kallio all of Warren. The daughter Mary lived with her father and faithfully cared for him during his declining years. He also leaves a brother Harvey Kallio of Wolfboro, N. H., and a sister Mrs. Lucy Hosmer of Warren. The funeral services will be held at the Baptist church this Saturday afternoon at 2:30.

At the Congregational church Sunday morning Rev. E. W. Webber will preach, subject, "Lessons from the Life of Washington." In the evening there will be a union service at the Baptist church.

PARK THEATRE

The best weekend picture for many moons is being shown today under the title of "The Lady from Longacre," with William Russell starring. The picture tells the story of an aristocrat inclined to stray from the staid and dignified path of high society into the folds of the lower and more human class. Sir Anthony is his name, and he changes it to Tony. When Tony meets the fugitive princess of a far-away kingdom his adventures begin, and they do not stop until he sails across the ocean to rescue her from a distasteful marriage. There is a double romance running through the story, which is filled with lively action.

One of the most delightful photographs shown here in many weeks is "Three Live Ghosts." The story deals with three lads who after being reported "missing," escape from a German prison camp and on reaching London prove themselves to be live ghosts indeed. The featured players are Anna Q. Nilsson and Norman Kerry. The picture is artistic and the supporting cast all that the most exacting taste could demand. Coming Monday.

The story of "The Red Peacock," Tuesday's picture, is that of a frail young woman who, to escape her drunken step-father, enters the gilded circle only to live a vicarious existence in which love, sadness and ultimate tragedy find their finest artistic expression. The picture fascinates by its force, while the excellence of the portrayals, notably that of Miss Negri as Violeta, hold one as by a magic spell. Produced in Europe by Paul Stein, "The Red Peacock" is worthy of the attention of all screen lovers—adv.

EMERSON YOUNG

William Emerson Young, a well known resident of Limerock street, died Feb. 12, in a local hospital, where he was operated upon two weeks before. The funeral services were held at the residence Wednesday, Rev. Eugene V. Allen officiating. Around the casket were many hand-some floral emblems. The remains were placed in the receiving tomb at Sea View cemetery until spring, when they will be interred at Achorn cemetery. The bearers were Alden Elmer of Rockland, Leslie Noyes of Boston, Hiram Young of Brewer and Isaac Young of Thomaston.

The deceased was a son of Isaac and Barbara (Smith) Young, and was born in Windsor in 1864. The family moved to Augusta during his childhood, and about 1873 came to Thomaston, where Mr. Young drove a limrock team for John Creighton until he came to Rockland 29 years ago. The ensuing years had found him as a teamster for C. E. Bicknell & Son, and the W. H. Glover Co., and finally in the trucking business for himself—thrifty, industrious, and enjoying high regard from his fellow workers.

Twenty-four years ago he was married to Clara Young, who survives him, together with two sisters, Mrs. Jennie Benner and Mrs. Leroy Dolham of Thomaston; two brothers, Isaac and Benjamin Young of Thomaston; a stepson, Hiram Young of Brewer; and a half brother, John H. Smith of Whitefield, N. H.

DR. JAMES H. SPEAR

Dr. James H. Spear, a nephew of Herbert and Charles Spear of West Meadow road, died Feb. 2 in the Massachusetts General Hospital, of heart trouble, from which he had suffered more or less of the time in the past three years. The interment was in Dorchester.

Dr. Spear was 40 years old, a native of Portland, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmont R. Spear. Working his way through the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, he established himself in practice in his home city. He was very fond of athletics and a lover of all outdoor sports. He is survived by his father, two brothers and two sisters.

SOUTH THOMASTON

Regular services at the People's church Sunday morning at 10:30, with preaching by the pastor and excellent music. The Sunday morning congregations have more than doubled. At 7 in the evening the subject will be, "Why doesn't God headcut the devil?" Don't miss this interesting discussion.

Who Pays the Fiddler?

There is an old saying that "Those who dance must pay the fiddler." The same thought applies to other things as well.

For example, we have here a homelike community which we all appreciate and enjoy. But what would happen to our pleasant community if we all stopped replenishing the fund out of which the expense of upkeep is taken? Our community would soon go to rack and ruin so that we should be ashamed to call it our own.

For every dollar that is sent out of town, somebody has to pay more taxes, because that dollar has gone to do its work elsewhere. The dollar spent with a local dealer pays its share of the cost of local improvements, helps to reduce your taxes and to make your home enjoyable.

Capt. E. A. Butler left yesterday for Portland where he will be joined by E. A. Cummings of Bangor for a trip to the West Indies. They expect to be gone about two months, and will tour the entire group of islands. Capt. Butler and Mr. Cummings will be guests of the latter's son in Portland until Sunday night. "I'm making this trip to see if I can fry the cold out of my bones," remarked Capt. Butler, as the train bore him away on the initial stage of his journey.

Miss Louise Fiske arrives tonight from Framingham, Mass., and will be the guest for a few days of her mother, Mrs. Ellen Geddes Fiske.

Charles A. Mitchell went to Boston this morning on business.

Word from Honolulu states that Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Carleton of Rockport are among the tourists at that place.

E. C. Moran, Jr., left yesterday for a business trip to New York and New Jersey.

This interesting social item is clipped from the Omaha, Neb., World Herald: "One of the merriest persons attending the benefit ball given by the nursery committee of the Salvation Army Rescue Home at the Fontenelle Thursday evening was B. F. Smith, who has passed his 92nd birthday anniversary. He recently arrived from Boston to visit his daughter, Mrs. Joseph Baldridge. While Mr. Smith did not dance every number on the long program, he did dance many numbers with his daughter and Mrs. Clifford Wolfe of Rockland, Me., wife of his grandson, who is visiting her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Donald Macrea, in Council Bluffs. Miss Gwendolyn Wolfe, granddaughter of Mr. Smith, with whom he usually dances, was not present, for she left a few days ago for New York city. More than $1000 will be realized from the benefit ball, although many remittances are still being received today," says Mrs. Henry Wyman, chairman of the event. The attendance was about 500 and every detail was a success."

The open meeting of Lady Knox Chapter, D. A. R., which was to have been held at the home of Mrs. Calista Cole at Rockport, Feb. 21, is postponed to some future date.

The Progressive Literary Club will meet with Mrs. A. L. Mather, Purchase street, Tuesday afternoon.

Bird Branch of the Sunshine Society will meet Monday afternoon with Mrs. E. J. Southard, 10 Ocean street. All members are requested to be present.

Miss Jeannette Simmons, whose marriage to Prof. Charles Wilbert Snow takes place in the near future, was guest of honor Thursday night at an auction and supper party given by Miss Charlotte Buttram for 20 of her friends at her home on Grove street. Prizes were won by Mrs. Ensign Otis and Harold E. Jackson.

Mrs. A. F. Pillsbury, who has been the guest of her mother, Mrs. W. A. Field, has returned to Minneapolis.

Mrs. Norman A. Read (Esley Bicknell) and daughter of Belfast are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Read in Lawrence, Mass.

When callous and unkindly males refer to anything in the social line that they don't quite know what to term, they usually call it a "pink tea," but the tea which took place Tuesday at the attractive home of Mrs. A. H. Jones in connection with the Congressional fair work, was pink in every sense of the word to the very pink of perfection. Pink pinks, pink azaleas, pink confections, pink cakes, pink cups, pink sugar—everything the pinkest of the pink and wholly delightful. Instrumental and graphophone music was played throughout the afternoon. The committee which made the affair possible, of which Mrs. C. E. Tuttle is chairman, was gratified to learn that its efforts had culminated so successfully with respect to the large attendance. About 120 tickets were sold.

Miss Frances Flanagan is attending the Kappa Sigma house party in Brunswick.

Mrs. James Welch is slowly recovering from a long and painful illness at her home, 31 Elm street.

Mrs. H. H. Randall and daughter, who have been spending a few days with Mrs. Randall's father, C. M. Harrington, has returned to Auburn.

Wight Philharmonic Society occasionally departs from the custom of fixed rehearsals, and relaxes into what comes nearer to being purely a social affair. Such as the latter was Thursday evening's gathering at Odd Fellows hall, when Philharmonic members and their guests, to the total number of 75, enjoyed a program wherein music, refreshments and social features enjoyed equal distinction. Mrs. E. F. Berry had charge of the program, which, prefaced by a short rehearsal, included vocal solos by Miss Cella Brault, Aime Bowden and Mrs. Stanley Cushing, piano selections by Miss Rita Calderwood and readings by Miss Marie Brown. The refreshments were in charge of Mrs. Charles Hall.

R. M. Packard arrived Wednesday from Lenox, Mass., whither he went to attend the funeral of the late Mrs. Oscar Hutchinson. The services were held Sunday.

Nearly $75, which will be devoted to the Knox Memorial fund, was realized from the attractive valentine bridge given Tuesday evening at the Falmouth by Elizabeth Wadsworth Chapter, D. A. R., in Portland.

It would seem as if winter had chosen Thursdays this year to show what varieties of bad days it could give; but despite this fact the members of Edwin Libby Corps have shown how bravely they could combat the storms and bad walking, and came out in goodly numbers at the circle supper and corps meeting this week. They completed their plans for the annual boiled dinner, for which this organization is so famous, with practically the same committees as last year, and to those who attended last year that will be saying quite enough. It is also planned to have an apron sale and a candy table the same day. After the business session the following program was presented: Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, J. O. Hodgkins; recitation, Marie Brown; salute to the flag, children of the public schools. This was followed by an address on "Americanization," by Miss Anna Coughlin, who perhaps has done more than any other woman in the city in this particular line. She laid much stress on education as a great factor in Americanization; but more than all, and above all, was the fact that the American people must rise above the inertia that allows so many of our good citizens of both sexes to shirk their public responsibilities, and allow a few to carry on our municipal, State and national affairs, often though we know they are not working for the good of the governed, rather than get out and do our part even with perhaps a personal sacrifice. It was an appeal for personal patriotic effort and was very much appreciated. The other members on the program were Master Hodgkins, monologue; recitation, Lois Libby; recitation and song, Virginia Brown; piano duet, Misses Ruth and Marian Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Noyes of Boston, Mr. and Mrs. Al. Galley of Portland and Hiram Young of Brewer were in this city this week to attend the funeral of the late Emerson Young.

A valentine party was given Tuesday evening by Miss Mabel Sewall at her home on Gay street. After playing some very amusing games, ice cream, cakes, sandwiches and fudge were served in the dining room, which had been prettily decorated with hearts and ribbons. The guests then were presented with valentines which caused a great deal of merriment. The guests were Mrs. Corice Randall, Mrs. Mildred Small, Misses Leola Benner, Mary McKinney, Ella Kaala and Stella Lord.

The S. M. Club was entertained Thursday night at the home of Mrs. William H. Rhodes, prize winners being Mrs. Lloyd N. Lawrence and Horace E. Lamb.

An unusually attractive luncheon and auction for ladies was the social event of yesterday that took place at the Thorndike Hotel, with Mrs. Arthur L. Orne, Mrs. George A. Wooster, Mrs. Roy L. Knowlton and Miss Maude Knowlton as hostesses. The luncheon and card tables were decorated with carnations and evergreens. The first of a dozen tasteful prizes, an attractive arts and crafts basket, was won by Miss Marion McLoon. Other prize winners follow: Mrs. Frank W. Fuller, basket; Mrs. B. B. Smith, candlesticks; Mrs. John O. Stevens, basket; Mrs. Edward L. Brown, stationery; Mrs. Lena K. Sargent, box of candy; Mrs.

Edward C. Payson, handkerchiefs; Mrs. C. A. Leighton, cards; Mrs. Frank L. Weeks, card case; Mrs. Ralph W. Hanson, cineraria; Mrs. Charles M. Kallach, hyacinth, and Mrs. Clifford O. Perry, cushion.

Miss Mary Saunders, a summer visitor at Pleasant Beach, is giving a dance tonight at her home in Brookline in honor of her house guests, Miss Lucy Fuller and Miss Elizabeth McDougall, who are respectively attending Lassell Seminary and Wellesley College.

Mrs. Albert S. Peterson underwent a serious bone grafting operation at the Knox Hospital Wednesday as performed by Dr. E. G. Abbott of Portland, a specialist in his line. This morning Mrs. Peterson was reported to be progressing nicely, but the nature of the operation must necessitate an extremely uncomfortable position for some ten days.

PADEFORD-ILSLEY

Announcements have been received in this city of the marriage Feb. 15th, at Oakland, California, of Rev. Frank W. Padefford, D. D., and Miss Gertrude L. Ilesley of Newton Highlands, Mass. Miss Ilesley formerly taught in Rockland High School, and is remembered as one of the most esteemed and efficient members of the High School faculty of recent years. Dr. Padefford is secretary of the Educational Board of the Northern Baptist Convention, and is doing a great work in the advancement of education in the Baptist denomination. He has just returned from a six months' trip to China for the purpose of research and study of educational conditions in that country. Dr. and Mrs. Padefford will remain in California until spring, when they will return to their home in New York.

Mrs. Ada B. Tremaine has gone to Boston and Providence for several weeks. Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Vaughn of Rockland Highlands will occupy the Tremaine cottage during her absence.

A cottage was recently moved from Juniper Hill and placed near Robert Studley's residence, the work being done by Fred M. Blackington. The building will be repaired and occupied in the summer by Miss Clemmie Kneon of Boston.

Mrs. Ella L. Maddocks of Owls Head has been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Clifford for several days. Allen Lufkin of Pigeon Cove, Mass., who was formerly a frequent visitor here, died at his home Sunday after an illness of two days. He was nearly 73 years of age. He was married here in 1885 to Miss Phoebe A. Condon, who survives him. The Rockport (Mass.) correspondent of the Gloucester Times has this to say of him: "Mr. Lufkin was a stone cutter by trade, but the loss of an eye caused him to give up this kind of work. Of late years he has been janitor of schools here, and was a general favorite with all the school children. The deceased was of the old school, courteous and kind to all, and an honest and upright citizen." A large number of school children sent notes of sympathy, and the school flags were placed at half mast. Deceased leaves two brothers, Zebulon and Frank Lufkin of Glen Cove.

Robert H. House has received a letter from Mrs. House from Port au Prince, Hayti, whither she accompanied her daughter, Mrs. Elmer E. Barde. The trip was a very rough one, the steamer having encountered a tempestuous storm off the Virginia capes, when a life boat was lost. Mrs. House is enjoying the delightful climate.

THE PRATTLER

XXVIII

Valentine's Day seems to have come around and gone away once more, and our day was saddened through the receipt of one lone valentine. It was quite a thrilling moment for us since the last one that came our way was when we were somewhere around 12 years old. The one before last was a most lovely affair, and ever since we have been hoping we could definitely locate its no doubt lovelier sender. A squad or two of nice pink cherubs were lined up with a "ready, aim, fire" sort of a look in their eyes, and their bow strings appeared to be all tangled up in a thick layer of paper lace; but that didn't make any difference—they all landed shots in both ventricles of our heart and we were deeply affected. We have religiously sought the lady in the hope that in growing up she has retained a small portion of the sacred sentiment towards us she apparently felt at that time. She must have been very beautiful and desirable—surely it would be the grossest kind of incongruity for the sender of that lovely affair not to be beautiful and desirable. We might try a classified ad.

LOST—A considerable time ago one beautiful lady. Last seen running up Grove street on or about thirteen years ago. Anyone possessed with information on the subject communicate with The Prattler and receive reward.

The origin of St. Valentine's Day, the day of days when both sexes take for themselves marked, poetic and sentimental license, cannot be logically traced. The reason for this freedom of sentimental thought surely cannot be found in the life of the good saint whose name apparently endorses the custom. He is not known to have been the author of any love ditties. There is no record of his being on friendly terms with any Roman damsel. In fact he was a steadfast Roman bishop, who clung dogmatically to his faith during the Claudian persecutions and was cast into jail for just that and nothing more. While imprisoned he is said to have cured the jailer's daughter of blindness. Cupid is credited with stimulating a certain type of blindness, not curing it. And when the powers that be heard about it there was nothing particularly sentimental about their treatment of Saint Valentine, for they beat him up with clubs and then cut his head off. What they left of him is said to have been preserved in the church of St. Praxedes at Rome, where a gate was formerly called, Porta Valentini, or Valentine's Gate.

The receipt of our lone valentine prompted an attempt at acquiring information on the custom, and in the course of investigation we ran across the following rather interesting account in "Curiosities of Popular Customs":

"In the days of quill pens and dear postage the transmission of valentines through the post was an expensive luxury. The amorous swains of that period had to content themselves with their idyllic fair ones with thick sheets of gilt-edged letter paper; envelopes had not then come into use, and book postage was then unknown, and the first page of each sheet was adorned with a gilt Cupid that was carefully gummed on above a few lines of tender meaning.

"With the reduction of the heavy postage printed valentines gradually came into use. They generally consisted of a gaudily colored picture, representing a loving couple seated in a bower, with a church in the distance, and a few lines descriptive of the tender sentiments of the persons forwarding the same. The designers of these amatory billets seemed to have entertained rather singular notions respecting the proper attire of the ladies and gentlemen of whose feelings they sought to be the interpreters. The lady was invariably dressed in a scarlet gown, with a blue or green shawl; the gentleman was attired in lavender trousers, yellow waistcoat, blue surcoat, and green or crimson cravat. The effect thus obtained was, as might be imagined, somewhat striking; but our fathers and mothers were apparently satisfied with these quaint productions. Cheap postage is also responsible for the introduction of the comic valentine, that hideous bit of vulgarity which still remains one of the tribulations of the day. But side by side with this monstrosity grew up the pretty and fanciful cards whose use has been extended so profusely to Christmas and to New Year's.

"Will you be my Valentine?" Such is the silly question that winds up most modern valentines. What does it mean anyway? We are perfectly willing to be anything within reason for anybody that so desires but what is it that is required? Just how can one be an acceptable valentine? The custom seems to be enshrouded in mystery and silly with sentiment; but we'd like to know who sent us that lace archery contest the same. We would be willing to take back a lot of our utterances apropos of valentines if we could find her; but it looks as though she went out of our life with flying pig-tails. She had beautiful hair, for we caught a fleeting and maddening glimpse of it around the corner of our house.

Enough with Valentine's Day. We asked Adriel Bird tonight how his rats were getting along and he appeared to be in a quite optimistic frame of mind. It would seem that rats and mice are the very least of his worries. As for the rats, that ground glass, poison and cement expedient of his, the faithful narration of which helped form our first Prattler back in the dark ages of December, seems to have been an infallible method, and many a rat since. Downright catty, we call it. And as for mice, he has an ingenious device that sounds as though it might be quite effective. The mice enter the device and find that they can not conveniently depart through the door by which they entered, so they climb a little stairway, follow their nose along several intricate passageways, slide down a sort of roller coaster affair, climb another stairway and abruptly plunge to their death into a can of water. Every other morning discloses a few drowned mice in the bottom of the can. Adriel says that they consider it a sort of game to see which of their number can be drowned first and he is quite fascinated by it. When the mice climb the stairway, that automatically sets all the tricks so that who enters not only enters at his peril, but also has only the remotest of possibilities of returning. It must be some device and we are going down to see it in operation some day.

LININDOLL'S WAY

Former "Boy Evangelist" Likes Owls Head Folk and Is Accomplishing Facts.

The revival services at the Owl's Head Baptist church were largely attended all last week. People came from miles around to the meetings, and a number were there who do not regularly attend the services. I had the privilege of shaking hands with one man 84 years old who made the statement that "he hadn't been to religious services for over 30 years."

I find the people of Owl's Head very generous and sociable. A number already have made a start to lead a Christian life, and we are looking for greater results at the remainder of the meetings, which will last over next Sunday. Sunday school at 1:30; revival services at 2:30 and 7:30 p. m. This closes the two weeks' revival services in this church.

Mrs. (Dr.) Browne, mother of the Rev. B. P. Browne, pastor of the Rockland Baptist church, took charge of the first part of last Sunday afternoon's service and spoke from the text: "I am the vine, ye are the branches." Her talk was greatly appreciated by everybody. All are invited to attend the remaining services. Sunday at 10:30 a. m. I will be at the Ash Point church, and as the Ash Point people will not take "no" for an answer, another week's special meetings will begin in the church, beginning Monday evening. Every effort will be put forth to persuade men and women to become converted. I believe in the old fashioned way of conducting religious services. Prayer is much needed, accompanied by love; a burdened heart and mind, backed up by the love of God, for the spiritual welfare of the listener's soul, instead of the pocketbook. We are living in the day when we should get down on the solid rock, preach Christ and Him crucified, rebuking sin without respect to persons, calling our enemy by his right name, the devil. Some persons call him Satan, and I have heard him called satan, and I have met him dressed in silks and broadcloths.

Counterfeit money, and religion that is artificial, is no good. Genuine religion is what we need in these days of infidelity. I wish to say that the schools that I have visited in this part of Knox county are the best country schools that I have ever visited. Each and every teacher takes special interest in their scholars, and I must say that the Timber Hill school and the teacher are a little ahead of any. Great respect and love are shown by the whole school to their teacher and on the other hand Mrs. Whalen is a mother to as well as a teacher of the whole school. The children have a long table where they sit at the noon hour to eat their dinner together. It reminds me of an old fashioned family, where they think more of children than they do of pocketbooks. God bless the little children. Jesus said "Blessed are the little children, for such is the kingdom of heaven." Dear reader, remember the services both here, and at Ash Point during the coming week. May I have the privilege of meeting you at some of these services.

CHURCHES GAINING

Figures Which Show Them To Be Overcoming War Losses.

Every day during the last five years an average of 2,173 persons joined the various churches of America. During the same time an average of three congregations have been organized daily and the average number joining the ministry has been 4½ persons per day.

These facts are brought to light by religious statistics for the United States compiled by Dr. E. O. Watson, Washington secretary of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America. The figures show that churches are steadily overcoming their war losses. The total church membership of the country, according to the latest available figures, is 45,997,199. This is an increase of 4,070,345 over the 1916 census figures and indicates a gain of more than a million members for the preceding 12 months.

Of the 45,997,199 persons listed officially as church members, the Roman Catholics have 17,855,646, Roman Catholic figures represent estimated population including all baptized persons. Protestant bodies count only communicants.

The total religious constituency of the country (including all members and adherents) is placed at 95,858,098 persons. Owing to different statistical methods of the various churches these figures are estimated in accordance with studies made by statisticians. On this comparable basis the constituency of the various groups is as follows:

Protestants, 74,795,226; Roman Catholics, 17,855,646; Jews, 1,129,090; Eastern Orthodox (Greek and Russian), 411,054; Latter Day Saints (Mormons), 1,646,170.

Of the Jewish figures—400,000 are estimated. The Jewish bodies have different methods of reporting, some counting only heads of families and others only heads of families who are also pew holders. Vol. 22 of the American Jewish Year Book estimates the Jewish population of the United States at 3,300,000.

For the first time the Baptists have passed the Methodists in total membership, now having 7,855,250 members, against 7,757,991. The Lutheran bodies stand third with a membership of 2,466,645 persons and the Presbyterians are fourth with 2,384,683 members.

Practically all of the major religious faiths have made a gain except the Unitarians, who show a loss of 30,880 members as compared with 1916 figures, their total membership of last year being 51,635; and the Methodist Protestant Church, which shows apparently a loss of 8,625 members for the five-year period. The Roman Catholics show a membership and adherents gain of 2,163,831 during the last five years. They have 16,550 churches manned by 21,642 priests.

The Methodist Episcopal Church (North) reports an increase in membership of 220,870 over the 1916 figures and 62,595 members over last year, its present membership being 3,938,655. It is the largest single Protestant communion. The Methodist Episcopal Church, South, shows a great gain of 91,315 members for the preceding year with an addition of 231,588 over the 1916 figures, its total now being 2,346,067. The Protestant Episcopal Church has recovered its war loss and now shows a gain of 11,208 over the 1916 figures, of which 7,134 were reported last year. Its total membership is 1,104,029 persons. An interesting fact is that the Salvation Army with a reported membership of 35,969, shows an increase of only 65 persons over five years ago.

The combined Baptist bodies show a gain of 681,937 persons over the figures of 1916. Each of the major Baptist denominations show an increase for that period. The Northern Baptist Convention with a membership of 1,253,878 apparently shows a gain of only 2,173, but the explanation must be made that during this period 196,867 Missouri Baptists formerly affiliated with the Northern Baptist Convention, transferred their allegiance to the Southern Baptist Convention, which now has 3,190,065 members. This was the largest gain made by any single communion. The National Baptists (Colored) show an increase of 177,746. Fourteen other Baptist bodies show a loss of 7,687. The Latter Day Saints or Mormons, as they are generally known, report a membership of 287,918, an increase of 113,000 over the 1916 census figures.

Chinook Language.

The Chinook language is a jargon of Indian, French, English and other words, named after the Chinook Indians of the Columbia river in the state of Washington and in British Columbia. It was once much used by traders and Indians in that region, but is now nearly abandoned. Gill's "Dictionary of Chinook Jargon" was published in Portland, Ore., in 1891, and Boas' "Chinook Texts" in the Smithsonian report of the bureau of ethnology at Washington in 1894.

On motion of A. W. Gregory it was voted unanimously to invite the pastor, Rev. E. V. Allen, to return for another year, and the district superintendent, Rev. James H. Gray, was instructed to use his good offices with Bishop Hughes to secure this reappointment.

Editorially, the Joplin Globe said: "The older residents of Joplin will feel a personal loss in the passing of Captain Marion Staples. His belief in the city and in this community was a continual inspiration. His willingness and his determination to overlook no opportunity to boost for this section have long been recognized. In a way he belonged to the older school of town builders, but that school, though never so large in Joplin as would have been wished, will never be improved upon in the matter of steady purpose and perpetual effort. He held high the standard of his home town on every occasion, and he marched with it solidly down the avenue of the years, never faltering, and never complaining.

"There was something about Captain Staples' personality, acquired from his early years on the sea, that was peculiarly appealing; a genuineness, a rough-and-ready, a blunt, outspoken frankness, that was charming the while it was effective. Deep down in the heart of him he was all man, a real man. His nature contained no essence of the mollycoddle. He was willing to accept the bitter with the sweet, and in his life he had his share of both. He was the sort of citizen who lives and works with the plain and matter-of-fact realities of existence, who appreciates the problems and vexations of the average man, and who views the hard knocks and sloughs of despond with a philosophical complacency that only a believer in the inevitable compensations of existence can have.

"Captain Staples had a world of admirers he never knew he had, and they are united today in sincere regret that he is gone. Wealthy in its citizenship, this community will never be able to lose such men without a pang."

MARION STAPLES

Joplin, Missouri, Pays Tribute At Bier of Former Maine Man.

In this paper recently was announced the death of Marion Staples of Joplin, Mo., a native of Maine, and well known in Knox County. From Joplin newspapers the following obituary is taken:

"Marion Staples, 78 years old, dean of Joplin real estate dealers, died at St. John's hospital, where he was taken for an operation. Mr. Staples had been in poor health for about seven months, suffering from hernia. In the last few days a severe cold with frequent coughing spells so aggravated his condition that he decided to submit to an operation. Reports from the hospital late yesterday afternoon were that despite his advanced years, Mr. Staples withstood the operation well and appeared to be doing nicely. However, a change was noted a few hours later and his wife was summoned. She was at his bedside when death came.

"Besides his wife he is survived by a brother, Roscoe Staples of Rockland, Maine. Marion Staples, one of the distinguished and representative men of Joplin, whose activity in public affairs had won him recognition as a leader in business and political circles, was born at Belfast, Maine, September 22, 1843. Mr. Staples had been a prominent and influential citizen of Joplin since 1877 and had long been an important factor in the real estate business of the southwest. Shortly after coming to Joplin he became a member of the real estate and insurance business of Hutehinson & Staples. He afterward was associated with J. H. Neal, Major F. M. Redburn and S. H. Claycomb. Since 1896 Captain Staples has been in the real estate business on his own account and actively conducted his business until his death.

"Politically, Mr. Staples had always been aligned with the Democratic party. He was chairman of the executive committee of the Democratic party and in 1904 he was president of the commercial club. He was a member of the Elks' lodge and Lions' club. "The funeral services were held at the Elks Lodge, after the body had lain in state at the chapel of an undertaking company. The Elks ritual services were held, Major Clark Craycroft, former lieutenant governor, and lifelong friend of Mr. Staples, delivered the funeral oration.

"There was something about Captain Staples' personality, acquired from his early years on the sea, that was peculiarly appealing; a genuineness, a rough-and-ready, a blunt, outspoken frankness, that was charming the while it was effective. Deep down in the heart of him he was all man, a real man. His nature contained no essence of the mollycoddle. DO YOUR CHILDREN Show Symptoms of Worms?

Do they sometimes eat with abnormal hunger and again show loss of appetite? Are they fretful and irritable at times, with occasional fever and fitful sleep at night, gritting the teeth and tossing restlessly? If so, look out for worms, so common in young children, and often the undetected cause of anxiety to parents. For more than sixty years the true "L.F." Medicine has proved a valuable remedy for worms in childhood, and we have many letters from Mothers who have testified to its merits as a safe, sure remedy for worms in children. Large bottle 50 cents at your dealer. "L.F." MEDICINE CO., Portland, Maine.
